U. S. SLEUTHS ARE SPREADING BIG NET

Federal Inquisition In Progress at Denver, Colo.

GREAT SURPRISES PROBABLE

Investigations Now In Progress May Involve Some of the Largest Corporations in America and Men In High Places.

Denver, Colo., May 29.—The Rocky Mountain News says:

"The federal inquisition now in progress in Denver involves some of the largest corporations in America and that indictments will be returned against men who are rated as multi-millionaires and captains of industry, known as well in Wall street as in Colorado, is the latest development in connection with the probing of the grand jury.

No less than 120 secret service men now make their headquarters in Denver, this small army of government sleuths having rented a large portion of the fifth floor of an office building from where they are spreading the net that it to gather in about the victims at high places. T. C. Wheeler, in the service of the department of justice at Washington, is in charge of the secret service men and expresses the belief that there will be some startling revelations in the near future.

Thaws Leave Hotel Lorraine.

New York, May 29.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who has made the hotel Lorraine, her home during many months her husband, Harry K. Thaw, has been in the Tombs for the murder of Stanford White, has left the hotel, according to an announcement, and with her mother-in-law, Mrs. William K. Thaw, has taken up her home in a house on Park avenue, near Fifty Ninth street. Here the two women whose devotion to the prisoner was a marked feature of his recent trial, will remain in seclusion for the summer, it is said, so as to be within call of the prisoner and to await events in his case. The second trial of Thaw will not be reached until fall.

Killed in a Runaway.

Alexander City, Ala., May 29.—Monday afternoon while returning with his oil delivery wagon from Hackneyville, John Johnson, the salesman of the Standard Oil company, at this place, was instantly killed in a runaway by his horses. It is reported that the team broke to a run near town, but Johnson lost control of them shortly after they dashed, and from all appearances, fell forward under the feet of the running horses and his head was horribly crushed by the heavy wheels of the vehicle.

Harvie Jordan Meets Emperor.

Vienna, May 29.—The international cotton conference was opened here Monday. There were over 250 delegates in attendance, and the sessions will last for three days. Mr. McAfee, for Great Britain, and Harvie Jordan, for the United States, delivered addresses, in which they reviewed the efforts of their respective governments to put a stop to illegitimate speculation in cotton. The delegates were received by Emperor Francis Joseph, at the Holburg, and were briefly welcomed to Vienna by his majesty.

Georgia Bankers to Meet.

Atlanta, May 29.—L. P. Hillyer, secretary of the Georgia Bankers' association, has given out the program for the annual convention, which is to meet in Macon, Ga., on June 5th and 6th. The headquarters will be Hotel Lanier, and the sessions will be held at the Grand opera house. It is expected that a large delegation will be present.

American Champion Defeated.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 29.—The American champion, Eben M. Byers, of Pittsburg, was defeated in the second round of the amateur golf championship, J. Patterson, of the Edinburgh club, winning by three up and two to play.

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

North Carolina Man Is Said To Have Forced Girl into Marrying Him.

Charlotte, N. C., May 29.—One of the strangest cases ever occurring in this city came to light when Henry Hirsch, a prominent real estate man, who came here some months ago from Charleston, S. C., where he was mustered from the army, was arrested on a charge of assault and sent to jail in default of $1,000 bond.

The warrant on which he was arrested was sworn out by J. R. Lemmond, brother of the newly-wedded bride of Hirsch. It is claimed that last Saturday Hirsch begged Miss Lemmond to drive up the street with him. After protest she consented, only to be driven about the city until bewildered, it is claimed, and then carried to the home of Squire Bailes, near Pineville, N. C., the matrimonial artist, where she claims to have been forced to marry Hirsch.

Hirsch is charged with threatening to shoot her if she made outcry, and her brother alleges Hirsch held her while Squire Bailes read the ceremony. The couple spent two days in matrimonial bliss until the brother of the bride, who had been working with attorneys on the case, succeeded in having his brother-in-law arrested on the charge of assault.

VESSELS TIED UP.

Longshoremen's Strike Prevents Vessels from Sailing on Time.

Philadelphia, May 29.—The strike inaugurated several days ago by the Longshoremen employed by the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company has spread to the men at work on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company's pier and to the receiving clerks on the wharves of the Boston and Philadelphia line. The steamships Parathon, for Boston; Indiana for Providence; Fall River and Allegheny, for Savannah, which were scheduled to leave Monday, were unable to sail.

More than a hundred men who have taken the strikers' places are living on two lighters in the Delaware river. There is room on the lighters for four hundred men, and cots have been placed on them for that number.

The men here are not organized, but went out at the solicitation of the New York strikers. They have been receiving 20 cents an hour and 25 cents per hour over time. They now ask 25 cents an hour and 30 cents an hour for over time.

Is Put Up to Cortelyou.

Savannah, Ga., May 29.—The naming of a successor to J. H. Deveaux, collector of customs here, has been put up to Secretary of Treasury Cortelyou by President Roosevelt. This information was received in a letter by Congressman Edwards from the president. The letter was in answer to one from the congressman asking the president not to reappoint Deveaux. Congressman Edwards will at once have petitions placed in the hands of prominent Savannahians and at different public places in Savannah asking that a white man be named to succeed Deveaux.

First Train on New Railroad.

Savannah, Ga., May 29.—The first passenger train over the Brinson railroad was operated Monday. This train left the Central of Georgia depot at 9:30 o'clock for Springfield, which is now the northern terminus of the road. A regular service will be maintained from this date. George M. Brinson is the president of the road and the principal owner.

Aid for Storm Sufferers.

Dallas, Tex., May 29.—Aid is being sent from all parts of Texas to the towns of Wills Point and Emory, which suffered from a destructive tornado Saturday afternoon. Four people were killed in each place and the property damage is heavy. The Texas Red Cross Society is looking after the sufferers.

Strikers' Places Filled.

Buenos Ayres, May 29.—The Great Western Railway company, whose employes are on strike, has re-established traffic, having secured new men. The dissatisfaction has spread to the other lines and a general railroad strike seems imminent.

MACON, GA., SCENE OF STREET BATTLE

Three Whites Dangerously and Negro Fatally Shot.

NEGROES HAD RESISTED ARREST

Macon, Ga., May 29.—Three white men dangerously wounded, and one negro fatally shot, is the result of a street battle, which occurred between officers and two desperate negro characters, who resisted arrest at Shelverton's corner Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Patrolman J. A. Coley had arrested the two negroes on Poplar street for disorderly conduct, some show of drinking having been made. He started across First street with the two prisoners, one on each side. While the one grabbed the officer's club the other whipped out a revolver and began firing.

The officer quickly returned the fire until the weapon was exhausted.

In a moment Station Sergeant Henry Hart and Call Officer Brannan were on the scene and the revolvers of both began to play havoc.

One negro dropped, after running 50 yards, and the other escaped through an alley, while shots were rained upon him.

In the fight, Henry Bennett, who operates a loan business on Poplar street, was dangerously wounded in the thign, and Joe Arnold was seriously hurt by a stray shot which hit him in the leg.

Patrolman Coley, who was in the thickest of the firing, sustained a wound in the leg which will not prove serious.

All four injured were taken to the city hospital for treatment.

TRAGEDY IN VIRGINIA.

Mother and Son Slew Father as He Lay Asleep.

Parkersburg, W. Va., May 29.—Word has been received here of a horrible murder in Ritchie county, at a point near MacFarlan, in which, it is said, a mother and son slew the husband and father, while he lay asleep in bed.

The victim of the murder was Harvey Yohe. His murderers are said to be his wife, Mary Yohe, and his son, John. According to reports received here, Yohe, after a quarrel with his wife, in which the son also participated, went to bed. It is said that the mother and son had threatened to kill him before "the day was over," and no sooner had he fallen asleep than they stole to his bedroom, and fired two shots from a revolver, one entering his head and the other his abdomen.

Both son and mother gave themselves up to the authorities, and are now in jail at Harrisville. They acknowledged the murder, and say they are ready to pay the penalty. Both say that they lived with Yohe as long as they could, having been subjected to all sorts of torture for many years.

Wintry Weather in Ohio.

Cleveland, O., May 29.—The temperature dropped to 40 degrees above zero Monday night. This record has been equalled only twice before since the weather bureau was established in 1871. Throughout the fruit belt along the south shore of Lake Erie huge bonfires were kept burning to prevent damage to young fruit. From other points in the state reports indicate much destruction.

Millers in Convention.

St. Louis, May 29.—Millers from all parts of the United States and some from abroad are in attendance at the opening session of the annual mass convention of the Millers' National Federation. The convention will continue until Thursday evening, closing with a banquet, at which the principal speaker will be Secretary Taft.

ALLEGED POISONING CASE.

Special Term of Chattooga Court Called to Try Groover.

Summerville, Ga., May 29.—The special term of the Chattooga superior court, called for the trial of G. L. Groover, a merchant in the western portion of the county, charged with causing the death of Mrs. R. E. Hooks, the wife of a prominent ginner and mill owner, convened on Monday.

The entire day was consumed in selecting a jury from a panel of 48.

Judge Mose Wright, recently very ill, has recovered and is presiding.

Both sides are backed by wealthy influence, and a remarkable array of attorneys have been employed.

Mrs. Hooks died on October 2. Her stomach, sent to the state chemist at Atlanta, showed strychnine poisoning, as did a sample bottle of nerve tonic received through the mail on the day of her death.

The prosecution claims to be able to prove that the bottle was mailed at Chattanooga by W. A. Hammond, Groover's father-in-law, in a package addressed by Groover.

The defense has two theories—suicide, or poison sent by her husband.

Groover was arrested soon after Mrs. Hooks' death and released. A preliminary hearing was held, an indictment found and he was rearrested.

Mrs. Hooks was an important witness against Groover on an indictment charging subornation of false swearing, growing out of a civil suit for $10,000 damages, filed by Hooks for alienating his wife's affections, which is the motive ascribed by the prosecution.

THREATS TO BURN CITY.

Situation at Santiago de Cuba Verges Closely on Anarchy.

Santiago, Cuba., May 29.—The strike situation in this city became very much aggravated Monday. There was considerable shooting throughout the day, and at one time a serious outbreak was threatened.

The business district of the city is being guarded by 500 members of the rural guards.

Many rifle shots were exchanged with rioters, but no one has been reported killed. It is supposed the firing was for the purpose of intimidation.

Open threats to burn property are being made, and with this approach to anarchy, many citizens of Santiago are arming themselves. They declare the situation to be unbearable. Business is about paralyzed.

Value of Telephone Apparatus.

New York, May 29—Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Indiana and New Jersey reported 631 of the 784 establishments making electrical apparatus, their output being 90.1 per cent of the total. The increase in total capital was greatest in Pennsylvania. The total value of telephone apparatus manufactured in 1905 was $15,863,698, as compared with $10,512,412 for 1900. An apparent falling off in the production of telegraph apparatus from $1,642,266 in 1900 to $1,111,194 in 1905, is accounted for in part by the growing customs among the larger telegraph systems of making and repairing their own apparatus.

Probable Reason for Murder.

New York, May 29.—Notwithstanding that the motive for the murder of Father Kaspar Valorian, the Armenian priest, whose body was found Sunday jammed into a trunk in a West Thirty-Eighth street house, is not yet clear, some facts have been learned which may dispel all the doubts as to why the priest was slain. Father Kaspar, according to some witnesses who have been found, was a clergyman and was identified with an Armenian secret revolutionary society in this city. It appears further that recently the revolutionaries in the local Armenian colony split and that much bad blood was engendered by the division.

Frost In Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., May 29.—A heavy frost fell all over eastern and central Kentucky Monday night. It is feared that it killed all the fruit and early vegetables. This is the coldest weather ever known in this section at this season of the year.

CHICAGO IS SCENE OF TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

Demented Woman Kills Mother, Shoots at Father, Then

SET FIRE TO SELF AND BURNS

Love Affair Is Said To Have Been Responsible for the Young Woman's Dementia—Parents Asleep on Bed When Attacked.

Chicago, May 29.—Miss Philander Swinnen, 30 years of age, believed to be demented, shot and killed her mother, attempted to kill her father, and then set fire to her garments and was burned to death early Tuesday morning.

The woman was released from the Dunning asylum a year ago. Her father, Joseph Swinnen, a laborer, escaped by running out of the door.

A love affair is said to have been responsible for the young woman's action. Her mother and father were in bed asleep when the girl arose and found her father's revolver. She fired two shots at her mother, both of which took effect and instantly killed her.

As Swinnen jumped from his bed the girl fired two shots at him. He was afraid to go near her, and ran from the house to summon assistance.

When Swinnen returned with a policeman and several persons they found the young woman lying upon the floor, her clothing ablaze.

Most of her clothing had burned off. They put the fire out and summoned a physician.

NAVAL PROJECT ABANDONED.

Plan To Transform Cruiser Into Mine Ship Falls Through.

Washington, May 29.—The navy department has been obliged to abandon its plan to transform the cruisers San Francisco into a mine ship because the change will involve the expenditure of more than $200,000, and consequently would require a congressional appropriation.

The San Francisco is now at Norfolk, where the work was to have been undertaken. The plan was to equip this ship with a plant capable of handling rapidly and with reasonable safety what are known as floating and submerged mines, such as were used with great effect during the Russo-Japanese war. A properly equipped mine ship can place these elements of coast defense in any ordinary harbor in sufficient numbers to insure protection in a course of a day or two, whereas many days and even weeks will be consumed by an ordinary vessel in the accomplishment of the same amount of work.

The conversion of the cruiser Baltimore, now at New York, into a mining ship is also temporarily suspended for similar reasons.

Assault Officially Investigated.

Tokio, May 29—The Japanese press is still generally calm and reserved over the apparently unprovoked attack upon Japanese in San Francisco. But it is only out of deference to President Roosevelt and his government and the confidence reposed in them that public expression of resentment is withheld. Even the most conservative and hopeful fear that a repetition of a similar occurrence may have serious results upon the relations of both countries. However, at present the firmest and friendliest state is still expressed. It is confidently hoped that the Washington government has decided to take measures that will prevent repetition of assaults and attacks upon Japanese.

Attends Launching.

Boston, May 29.—Gormer Governor Joseph F. Johnson, of Birmingham, Ala., and party, arrived here Tuesday to attend the launching Wednesday at Quincy, of the new scout cruiser Birmingham. The vessel will be christened by Miss Mary Campbell, of Birmingham. During the day the party from Alabama will visit the Fore River Ship Building company's works at Quincy to inspect the cruiser Birmingham.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle

Was Organized at LaCrosse Few Days Ago With Big Membership.

LaCrosse is a thriving little town, inhabited by enterprising people who dislike to be behind the times in anything. As a result they usually keep apace with the rest of the county in improvements, commercial, fraternal and social.

The latest acquisition to LaCrosse is a lodge of Odd Fellows, which was instituted in that town recently with a good membership, fourteen having come in by card, with ten by initiation, making a total of twenty-four, with prospects of a rapidly increasing membership, for there is lots of good material for Odd Fellows in that section.

This lodge was instituted by a special team from Gainesville, assisted by Grand Master White. The presence of Grand Master White upon this occasion was quite an honor to the LaCrosse lodge, as it is very seldom his duties will permit him to attend institution of lodges of this size, his time being required largely in the more important centers, where he is kept busy. However, he learned that LaCrosse was to have a lodge, and, asertaining the date, made it convenient to be on hand.

The team from Gainesville comprised Special Deputy J. W. Blanding, Grand Secretary A. M. Cushman, Robt. McClellan, Col. I. E. Webster, J. H. Morton, J. I. Blake, L. B. Parrish, W. H. Gunz, J. M. Rivers.

The entire four degrees were conferred in a most impressive manner by this team, after which officers of the new-born lodge were duly elected and installed, and the lodge started out with the brightest prospects.

A PROMINENT VISITOR.

Mr. Rowley Says Gainesville Came Away Above His Expectations.

Among the prominent visitors in Gainesville is S. W. Rowley of San Mateo, a prominent cigar manufacturer, merchant and orange grower of that progressive town, nestled upon the banks of the St. Johns river, five miles south of Palatka, in Putnam county.

Mr. Rowley, who is a personal friend for the past fifteen years of the city editor of The Sun, made this office a pleasant call, which was deeply appreciated. He is one of the benefactors of not only Putnam county, but the entire east coast, since he has been for several years the special agent of the immigration department of the Florida East Coast Railway.

Mr. Rowley is making his first visit here, and is well pleased with what he has seen. He declares that he was taken by surprise when he observed the magnificent buildings and the fine sidewalks of Gainesville. "This is my first visit," he declared, "and I am frank to admit that, while I always knew that Gainesville was a good town, and realized that commercially it is one of the best in the State, I had no idea of the refinement and the excellent business blocks and residences here."

Mr. Rowley will leave this morning for Waldo, where he goes on business, but declares he is coming back again when his business affairs will permit him to remain longer. He is delighted with everything he has seen.

APPROPRIATION BILL HAS BIG OPPOSITION

Several Big Knives Are After Cutting Expenses of State.

BOTH HOUSES ARE VERY BUSY

The situation at the close of the fifty-seventh day of the Legislature of 1907, with but three days remaining, is not all that could be wished for by the friends of the great number of bills now on the calendars and which only a few can by any possible chance be reached in this regular session.

When the Senate convened for the afternoon session, it was clearly apparent that dark clouds hung over that body and the cause was the appropriation bill for expenses of the State Government for the two years ending June 30, 1909. The tension was maintained during the entire afternoon session, which was directed to the consideration of this bill, and just prior to adjournment Senators gave notice practically to the effect that the bill would not come to a vote until every effort had been made to secure the full consideration of the measure.

At adjournment, the pending amendment was on the first section, covering the expenses of the last half of 1907. The principle involved Wednesday will be settled after this section is disposed of, the remaining two sections being for the year 1908, and first half of 1909. Still, if the opponents desire to continue the contest and offer to each of the remaining sections all the amendments offered to the first, and the debate is also continued, another day could be easily consumed. This bill, proposed by the committee on appropriations, carries a substantial increase over that of 1905, and it is along this line the legislative battle is being fought, the opposition endeavoring to reduce the appropriations called for in the bill to more nearly correspond with existing law.

Of all the amendments so far adopted, only one decreases the amount called for in the bill, that of Governor's private secretary, which was placed back to the amount he is now receiving. Others adopted increased the salary of the State chemist, and of some of the clerical force in various departments over that called for in the bill.

Plea for State Arsenal.

Wednesday afternoon, if the special order is strictly observed, will come up in the Senate the bill passed by the House making it unlawful to transport liquors from a wet to a dry county. This is the companion bill to that of Senator Humphries, which was withdrawn by the introducer to make room for the House measure.

The House bill, amending charter of Stetson University, was again postponed in the Senate until Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock.

The increase in the salary of the adjutant-general to $2,500, embraced in the bill, which has now passed both houses, was also by amendment provided for in the State expenses appropriation bill.

In the House the death of the State life insurance bill by indefinite postponement will probably also mean that the companion bill of Mr. Trammell in the Senate, which has been on special order for some time, will not be called up this session at any rate.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate was called to order at 9:30 Tuesday with President Harris in the chair and a quorum present.

Following were among new bills introduced:

By Mr. Adams—Making appropriation for expenses of the State Government for the term of years ending June 30, 1909.

By Mr. Jackson—Amending general statutes relating to exemption of wages from garnishment.

By Mr. Harris—Authorizing the State Board of Health to enact, promulgate and enforce rules for betterment and protection of the public health, was read the second time and under waiver of rules read the third time in full. On roll call the bill passed by vote of 28 to 2.

Senate bill No. 416, by Mr. Adams—To provide for the levy of taxes for the years 1907 and 1908, was then called up by Senator Adams and read in full second time. Senator Buckman offered amendments relative to increase milleage of levy should such be necessary.

Senator Adams accepted the amendment, which was adopted, and the bill ordered engrossed.

House bill No. 36, by Mr. Clarke of Jefferson—Providing penalty for procuring money on contract to perform service with intent to defraud and to present rules of evidence in such cases, a special order set for 10 o'clock, was called up by Senator Girardeau, read the third time in full and on roll call passed 27 to 0.

The bill relates to personal and general staff of the Governor and the adjutant-general's department and fixes the salary of the adjutant-general at $2,500. On roll call the bill passed by vote of 20 to 8.

Messages of the House of Representatives were considered, on motion of Senator Humphries, and bills passed both houses, ordered enrolled and House bills ordered to proper committees, except in cases when immediate consideration was determined upon.

House bill No. 95, by Mr. Watson—Requiring payment of license tax by nonresident fishermen and prescribing penalty for failure to do so, read the second time with amendments, which were adopted. The rules waived and the bill read the third time and passed 26 to 1.

The Governor's Mansion bill, a special order set for Tuesday, was called up by Senator Henderson, being House bill No. 409, by Mr. Melton of Duval. The bill was read the second time and an amendment decreasing the appropriation to $18,000 was adopted. This amount is required for improvement and purchase of additional grounds and furnishing the mansion. The rules were waived and the bill read the third time and passed by vote of 17 to 7.

Senate bill No. 234, by Mr. Humphries—Making it unlawful to place any obstruction in public drains, ditches and canals in this State, was read in full the third time and passed, 22 to 0.

House bill No. 192, by Mr. Kirkland of Lake—Amending general statutes, relating to the working, repairing and maintaining the public roads and bridges of the several counties in the State, was read the second time in full and committee amendment adopted. At the suggestion of Senator Adams, the matter was informally passed in order to give Senators further opportunity to examine the bill.

Senate bill No. 213, by Mr. Clarke of Jefferson—To cancel certain tax sale certificates held by the State of Florida, was read the second time, rules waived, read the third time in full and passed, 26 to 0.

The House having passed Senate bill No. 404, the Massey railway mileage license bill, and returned same with House message, the bill was ordered enrolled.

The afternoon session was passed in discussing and amending the appropriation bill, when the Senate at 6:30 adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The House of Representatives was called to order at 9 a. m., by Speaker Matthews. Roll call, quorum present. Prayer by chaplain. Correction of journal of Saturday.

House bill No. 546, by committee on finance and taxation—The general appropriation bill, was read the third time in full and passed, yeas 59, nays 1, (Mr. Roddenberry of Wakulla.)

Afternoon Session.

Senate bill No. 247, by Mr. Jackson of the Ninth—Providing for appointment of a commission to adjust Indian war claims, was taken up and read in full, and provoked lengthy discussion, but was passed, 45 to 7.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

There is no other part of our physical system upon which so much depends as upon the blood. The muscles, nerves, bones, sinews, skin, and other portions of the body are sustained, developed and enabled to perform their different duties, because they are supplied with nourishment and healthful properties through the circulation. In various ways the blood becomes contaminated and polluted. A sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, will leave the refuse and waste matter of the body to sour and form uric and other acids, which are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism, or some itching, disfiguring skin disease is the result. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, splotches, pimples, etc., all show that some humor has taken root in the circulation and rendered it sour and unfit for nourishing the body. There is scarcely any disease which cannot be traced to the blood. Often the disease-tainted blood of parents is handed down to children and their lives are a continual battle against disease in some form, usually of a scrofulous nature. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood troubles, and until this vital fluid is purified they cannot be cured. For all blood diseases S. S. S. is the best remedy ever put upon the market. This great medicine is made of roots, herbs and barks of recognized blood-purifying and building-up properties. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities and humors, supplies the blood with the healthful properties it needs and completely cures blood diseases of every kind. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., because it purifies the blood. Book on the blood and medical advice free.

AGED NEGRO WOMAN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

WOMAN IS NOW IN JAIL

Francis Mulberry, an old negro woman who looks as though she might have turned the seventy-mile post several years ago, is guilty of an act of criminal operation, according to the dying statement of the victim, Queen Clements, a colored girl, twenty years of age.

This statement was made to Justice Colman on Saturday night by the woman, who was told that she was not long for this world, and who willingly gave her story, the Justice says.

The Mulberry woman was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Marshal Arnow, and is now confined in the Alachua county jail, where she will be likely to remain until the next session of the circuit court.

The story goes that the Mulberry woman, in an endeavor to accomplish the desired result, administered drugs which were effective, but which resulted in the death of the victim Sunday night.

Dr. R. B. Ayer, who had been called in to attend the woman for a hemorrhage of the nose, discovered through the symptoms of the patient the real condition of the case. This was on Saturday, and he immediately notified Justice Colman of his discovery. It was on Saturday evening that Justice Colman, accompanied by Dr. Ayer, went to the woman's home. She was told that she could not live, and that her dying declaration was wanted, when the victim related the whole story, in substance that she had enlightened the Mulberry woman of her condition, when she (Mulberry) told her not to be alarmed, that she would cure her. She gave her medicine, which was taken, and which proved fatal.

An Autopsy Performed.

After the death of the Clements woman, Drs. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., and Ayer, performed an autopsy, reporting that deceased came to her death from the cause of pelvic peritonitis.

The Coroner's Jury.

A coroner's jury was empanelled by Justice Colman, and after reviewing the dying statement of the woman, the report of the physicians and other evidence, a verdict was returned to the effect that the victim came to her death through an attempt of one Francis Mulberry, to accomplish a criminal operation.

CLOSING OF SCHOOL.

St. Augustine Episcopal Mission Finished a Successful Term.

The closing exercises of St. Augustine's school were a very gratifying success from beginning to end.

Sunday, May 26, 10:30 a. m., a large congregation gathered in the chapel to hear the baccalaureate sermon, which was preached by Rev. J. B. Brown, rector of St. James Episcopal church, Ocala, who took for his text Twelfth Chapter, First Verse, of the Epistle to the Hebrews.

The sermon was very befitting for the occasion, forcible and interesting as well as instructive, impressing upon minds of the hearers the imperative necessity of the noble virtues of good citizenship and a greater usefulness in life. Also, in the afternoon he preached in the Mt. Carmel Baptist church, and at 8 p. m. in the Mt. Pleasant M. E. church, to large and appreciative congregations.

Monday, May 27th, at 8 p. m., Johnson's hall was filled to its utmost capacity with an audience to enjoy the closing exercises of the school, which were interesting and entertaining from start to finish.

The commencement exercises of the finishing year were well rendered, and in fact, all the pupils reflected much credit upon the school, their teachers and themselves.

The principal speakers were Rev. S. A. Huger, Prof. T. E. Dubose and Rev. J. B. Brown.

A RAILROAD COLLISION.

A railroad collision blocks traffic and ties up the road, interfering with the proper operation of the system on which it happens just in proportion to the gravity of the accident. Something very similar has happened inside the human body when constipation manifests itself. The proper operation of the human system is interfered with and comfort and health suffer in proportion to the gravity of the case. Chronic constipation is a serious condition with which medical men frequently have to deal and they recognize the fact that its permanent cure demands the restoration of elasticity and strength to the muscles that control the bowels. To accomplish this physicians of the better class are now using with much success a preparation of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Senna, ½ oz. of Rochelle Salts, 1 oz. Aro-Sagrada, 30 grains Bicarbonate of Soda, ½ oz. water and 1½ ozs. Glycerine. A dose of a teaspoonful of this is administered at bedtime and before each meal, the treatment being continued until there is free movement of the bowels. The prescription can be compounded by any good pharmacist.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

Work on the Florida East Coast Railway extension is progressing more favorable at the present time than at any time since the work was begun about two years ago. There are over 1,000 men at work on the extension and reports have it that all are satisfied with their work, that they are well paid and so far have been troubled with but few mosquitoes, and but little sickness.

Tests with the Government submarine boats that have just been concluded at Newport indicate that this class of vessels have developed to the point where it is no longer a mere forlorn hope, a death-risking desperate contrivance, but a ligitimate arm of the service that will have to be definitely reckoned with in future naval wars and in naval building programs. The two boats that have been tested have not only shown speed on the surface and under it but ability to stay down for 24 hours at a time without inconvenience to their crews. They have shown that the United States is in possession of as effective submarine vessels as any power in the world, and they indicate strongly that the American coast will be a mighty unhealthy region for any hostile fleet to navigate in should there arise the unfortunate contingency of another foreign war.

If one should judge by the appearance of the frequent droves of cattle being driven through the streets from time to time, it would seem that another important industry has been added to the rapidly increasing importance of Gainesville. Bunches of cattle are frequently seen, being brought to market from the ranges of the West End, and from the Suwannee valley, LaFayette and Levy counties, but one of the largest to arrive for several months was the drove brought in Monday from the Suwannee valley by T. G. Hagan of Judson and Arch Jackson of this city. This bunch comprised ninety-six head, and the condition of the cattle was considerable above the average, the majority of them being fat and sleek, being evidence of the fact that the ranges are now good, despite the continued drought which was broken only a few weeks ago.

GAINESVILLE AS VIEWED BY SAMUEL A. SWANN.

"Gainesville is a hustling city," said Mr. Samuel A. Swann, Monday, in discussing his visit there, when he was a delegate to the Episcopal Council.

"There is an air of progress and prosperity there, which I was pleased to note. If you spend a few days in Gainesville you can appreciate the great extent of progress made in this State during the past few years. Like Fernandina the people of Gainesville have an abundant faith in their city and are advancing at a rapid rate.

"Situated in the center of the very best country in this State, that city is moving forward at a rate that is astonishing. Mind you, I am no stranger to Gainesville, neither is Gainesville a stranger of mine. I was there for days at a time years ago, and I have been a regular, if not a frequent visitor to that city during the last many years.

"When I alighted from the Seaboard Air Line train and rode up University street, one of the least attractive streets of the city, with the dust sufficient to blind me, I thought that the boast of Gainesville that she had outgrown the other interior cities was not verified by the fact. But when I was taken for a drive behind a magnificent team and had my attention called to the magnificent homes, the pretty streets and the neat public improvements which have been made there only recently, I could realize the great extent of the advancement of the Central City.

"There is everything to denote progress and prosperity. The residences are magnificent ones, the sidewalks are grand and the stock you see is the best in the State. It was with pleasure that I observed the new Gainesville. It is a great city and is jumping ahead. The delegates to the council were accorded a magnificent time and all of us left with the very best opinion of Gainesville and her people."—Fernandina Record.

It will be bad news to sportsmen all over the country, but according to the Department of Agriculture an epidemic has broken out among the quail and grouse that promises to be as severe as the deadly "grouse disease" that periodically sweeps the English shooting coverts and the Scotch moors. It was almost a year ago that the first indications of the disease were found by the Department in some birds that had died of a mysterious malady in the hands of a Washington dealer. More birds died in the same way in the hands of the same man and his healthy stock was infected on the premises. It was found that the disease came in shipments of birds from a point in Alabama. Then there were similar reports from Kansas and up to date areas of infections have been determined in Kansas, Alabama, Indian Territory, Massachusetts and Nova Scotia. The disease attacks quail and grouse and is something like infectious pneumonia. The germ of the disease has been isolated and it appears closely allied to if not identical with the dreadful English grouse disease. The spread is serious enough to cause alarm, and the Department has sent out circulars asking for reports wherever there seems to be an outbreak of infectious disease among the quail and grouse. It is hoped that the infected areas can be defined and quarantined and the spread of the disease checked. The Department will be grateful for any specimens of birds having died a suspicious death. The specimens can be wrapped in carbolated cotton and shipped promptly to the Bureau of Animal Industry in Washington. The general co-operation of the bird-loving public will help to check the ravages of the disease.

Reports have been coming in to the Rural Free Delivery section of the Postoffice Department as to the performances of the women rural carriers on the Department's staff. There are not proportionately very many women carriers, there being only 253 women out of a total force of 35,666. Attention was first called to the work during the past winter of Miss Ella Banks, a carrier on one of the New England routes. She had a route of 25 miles and had kept it up regularly throughout the worst snowstorms of the winter, times when everyone else was snow-bound. On one occasion she even had to abandon her horse and wagon and make the trip on foot, but she did it and was the first passenger of any sort over the trail. Since then there have been a number of similar cases brought to the attention of the Department in Indiana, Idaho and Alabama. Some of the women have been nearly drowned in flooded streams and forced to go afoot over almost impassable roads, but they have kept up to their work quite as well as the men and the Department is proud of them. It may be said that the Rural Free Delivery service is doing as much in a practical way for the cause of good roads as any other one agency. Many of the country roads where the rural routes are laid out are almost impassable in the spring and fall and the Department has scores of pictures showing their bad condition. Where there is a particularly bad stretch of road reported, the Department threatens to suspend the route on the plea that the carrier cannot travel it. This threat has almost uniformally the effect of bettering the local conditions, for the rural delivery is one of the most popular experiments ever tried by the Government.

DEAD MEN'S BAGGAGE

CHATTELS OF LOST SEAMEN.

A Strange Storehouse of Strange Things, Where the Belongings of Those Who Have "Gone Over the Side" at Sea Are Kept Until Claimed.

"Messages from the sea." There are 200 or 300 waiting delivery in London at this moment, and the gray romance clinging about them is heightened by the knowledge that the greater part will never be called for. Down by the docks, amid the mud and lumber of that wonderful place, is an unpretentious building, and in the vaults below, in a catacomb of old clothes and queer baggage, are stocked the belongings of those who have gone down to the sea in ships and never returned.

Now and then, but not often, a pale woman it may be troubles the serenity of that cloak room of the dead and, being conducted below, is guided through the maze of ownerless baggage until presently, with a start, she cries out:

"That's Bill's bag, mister—the one just over your 'ead! I knows it by the patch I sewed in afore he started." And while the woman waits, wide eyed, her guide reads from the white government label tied to the sailor's sack: "William Smith, A. B., ship Southern Star. Washed overboard, Desolation strait."

"That's 'im," says the wife, gulping down her sorrow, and the great bag is pulled from its resting place looking like a badly packed Christmas stocking, warty and bulging in odd corners with the dead seaman's belongings. And on top are lashed his worn sea boots and a rough parcel in thin foreign paper which they found under the pillow in his bunk. Hard usage and sea spray have played havoc with the thin rice paper, and the secret that Bill was guarding so jealously appears in the form of a dainty flaxen haired doll, with mild blue eyes, calculated to fascinate the heart of any little maid at sight.

"Ah," cries the woman, proud for the moment of her husband's remembrance, "that's for Minnie. He said he would bring it—or send it," she adds, with unconscious pathos, "if he could not come himself." And she hides the doll in her shawl and in an outburst of emotion goes off with her find, and Bill disappears forever from history.

There they lie in neatly ordered rows, those old canvas bags, each with its terse official label dangling from it, a fine, faint odor of foreign climes pervading the gray dusk of the passages. Yet what a storehouse of romance they represent, what an inspiration for some Teufeldrokh of the salt water! There is an individuality about every homely package. What, for instance, was the fate of the poor 'prentice lad who owned that duck bolster and where is the mother whose gentle fingers stitched his initials on it so lovingly? The grim simplicity of the official details merely describes him as "missing," and that's the end of it. Poor mother! In the next recess lie the worldly goods of a North sea whaler. You can still smell the sperm oil distinctly when you come within three yards of them. There is an accordion on top of the pile, with all the music long since out of it, and a half carved walrus tusk beside it, with a picture of the dead man's ship on one side and on the other a symbolic sketch of himself at home, one hand round his wife's waist and a joyously large tankard of beer held aloft in the other.

A little farther on is a sea stained bag, a flute and an opium pipe, crossed saltire on top—that is, the escutcheon, Ah Sing—and his epitaph says he fell overboard somewhere in the roaring forties. Luckless heathen! It will be a long swim home thence to the ancestral burial place by the Yellow river. And still a little farther on, amid the jumble of pathos and poverty, of commonplace and high romance, of sea chests and bags and baskets, in a corner where those things are put which have waited longest unclaimed, is an old portmanteau, gray with dust, yet obviously of better class than its companions in misfortune. You turn its creaking hinges gently, expecting tarpaulins and sou'westers, and there, spoiled and yellow, but arranged with feminine grace, is a bride's outfit, everything unused down to the modestly folded white gloves, rusty as their buttons, and on the bosom of the dress is a photograph faded beyond recognition, with a prayer book by it and a rose leaf still marking the marriage service.

As strange a storehouse of strange things as any in the big city is this unclaimed property office of the docks, and if few go to its gray corridors to search for traces of the missing still fewer come away in a talkative mood. —Pall Mall Gazette.

Now's the only bird lays eggs o' gold. —Lowell.

Making It Pleasant.

"I am nineteen years old and go to parties a good deal. I want to make myself pleasant and agreeable, but am a poor conversationist. Could you suggest some topics of conversation that would take well in mixed company? MABEL."

Yes, Mabel. As soon as you enter the parlor shake your head and exclaim in a loud tone:

"Oh, dear! I washed my hair yesterday and can't do a thing with it!"

That makes a hit right away and puts every one at ease. This expression can be used whenever conversation lags. Music is a great help. Express yourself this way:

"Well, I don't know anything about music, but I do know what pleases me."

This will give the idea that you are a musician.

To discuss art all you have to do is look at the pictures on the wall and when you see one you like exclaim:

"Isn't that a beaut?"

This will divulge your artistic sense.

At the supper table reach for the olive dish and say:

"There was a time when I couldn't eat olives, but I can eat a whole bottle of them now."

Then take five in one grab, and people will like you for saying what you mean. With these few hints you'll find conversation comparatively easy. —Detroit Free Press.

Sugar In Coffee.

The average amount of sugar used in coffee is a study which has become so much of a fascination to a young man who frequents restaurants pretty constantly that he has taken to going to different places for each meal in order to enlarge the sphere of his observations among different classes of people, says the Philadelphia Record. "Poor people, as a rule," he says, "use more sugar than rich people, and it's also a pretty constant rule that men drink sweeter coffee than women and that old men have the sweetest tooth of all when it comes to coffee. It is noticeable, too, that drinkers of after dinner coffee make it very much sweeter than that which they take in the morning. I know a middle aged man who takes just two lumps to a cup in the morning, which is below the average, but into the little cup he takes after dinner he puts six full sized lumps. This makes a sort of sirup of the drink, which, I suppose, takes the place of after dinner bonbons."

Trained Too Well.

In Baltimore the rule of the transportation companies is that children over the age of five years must pay full fare, those under that age being carried free.

One afternoon not long ago there were among the passengers on a Charles street car a woman and her son, the latter a big boy of apparently seven years, but who was held in his mother's lap as if he were a baby.

Presently the lad grew restive. "Mommer, mommer," he murmured, "say, mommer!"

The mother, with a premonition of impending danger, tried to silence the youngster, but to no avail, for he continued to call upon his "mommer."

Finally the woman asked, "Well, what is it, son?"

"Mommer, when do I say I'm only five?" asked the irrepressible.—New York Times.

Blind Pupils.

An artist in Paris had much difficulty in getting his pupils to make use of the extremely "impressionistic" ideas of art. One evening at a large dinner party he asked an elderly gentleman next to him, who was very shortsighted, how the gentleman at the foot of the table appeared to him.

"Well," replied the nearsighted one, "I see a very white spot, which I take to be his shirt front, and a flesh colored spot, which I know to be his face."

"Ah," exclaimed the artist enthusiastically, "how I wish my pupils could see things as you do!"—Searchlight.

Feeling Heat and Cold.

The principal reasons that we feel objects that are cold when brought in contact with the skin quicker than those that are warm is that the skin, being a very poor conductor of heat, absorbs heat slowly from an object of a higher temperature than itself, while other objects which are cooler and which in nearly every instance are better conductors of heat than the skin absorb heat readily from the skin, and hence a sensation of cold is felt at once.

The Only Way.

"I am writing an article," he said, "on 'The Way to Manage a Woman.'"

"I suppose it will be a long one," she replied in a slightly scornful tone.

"No," he answered, "it will be quite short. In fact, it will consist of only two words—'Don't try!'"—Birmingham Post.

COLOSSAL SCHEME.

New York, May 29.—Attention of financiers is again called to the coffee valorization scheme of the coffee states of Brazil by the announcement that another loan of $10,000,000 has just been made in connection with the plan by the Dresdener Bank of Germany.

As was the case in previous loans, the money is paid directly to Sao Paulo, one of the coffee states, but instead of the loan being made with coffee as collateral, the bankers making the loan have taken over on lease the Oracabana railway, one of the most important railroads of Sao Paulo. Adding the $10,000,000 now pledged through the lease of the railroad, the coffee states of Brazil have raised, it is stated, the enormous sum of $95,000,000 in pursuance of the plan to improve the coffee trade of Brazil. There are now held as collateral 7,500,000 bags of coffee. Of this amount, Hamburg, New York and London merchants and bankers hold 6,000,000 bags.

No other scheme as colossal in extent has ever been tried by any organization or country in the marketing of any commodity as has the coffee valorization scheme of the coffee states of Brazil. The federal congress of Brazil recently received a message from the president of the republic of Brazil containing the information that the coffee question was a national issue and not simply a question of the coffee states. The president's message stated also that the federal government would endorse and guarantee for the coffee states to the amount of $75,000,000, which was agreed upon, and was enacted into law in August last.

Thousands May Lose Jobs.

Chicago, Ill., May 29.—Between 50,000 and 100,000 men will be thrown out of employment by the railroads of the country before the end of the first week in June, according to reports here. It has been the custom in the past for the railroads to reduce their payrolls at the beginning of summer, but this year the roads have issued especially stringent economic orders, and the working forces will be reduced to the lowest possible point. In addition to the employees in the regular service, many thousands of laborers will be discharged by the railroads which have abandoned new work and new extensions, owing to the difficulty of raising money.

Killed by Unknown Person.

Thomasville, Ga., May 29.—J. B. Hagan, a prominent farmer near Barwick, in the northeastern part of the county of Thomas, was killed by an unknown person last Friday night and his body was found in the woods half a mile from his home terribly shot, cut and beaten. The coroner's jury investigated and found that Hagan had been called from his house after retiring Friday night. He went away with one man, presumably a friend, carrying a pistol. Shots were heard three hours later by his wife and six daughters, but no alarm was given by them. The jury was unable to find a verdict and will meet again.

Danish West Indian Acquisition.

Copenhagen, Denmark, May 29.—It is stated here that the question of the acquisition of the Danish West Indian islands by the United States, has been informally broached again by the American minister, Mr. O'Brien, in conversation with the Danish foreign minister, Count Levetzau. It is considered, however, that political and other reasons will prevent Denmark from consenting to the sale. There is little probability that the government will be able to obtain a majority in parliament in support of the proposition.

Torpedo Blows Car from Track.

Chicago, May 29.—Two men were badly injured by broken glass and a score of others sustained slight injuries Tuesday when a street car on the Calumet Electric railway was blown from the tracks by a torpedo at Ninety-Third street and South Chicago avenue. The explosion lifted the car from the tracks and dumped it into the roadway. The car was crowded with men, and in the panic that ensued, many were thrown down and trampled upon. The police are investigating.

Do You Love

your baby? You wonder why he cries. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he will never cry. Most babies have worms, and the mothers don't know it. White's Cream Vermifuge rids the child of worms and cleans out its system in a pleasant way. Every mother should keep a bottle of this medicine in the house. With it, fear need ever enter her mind. Price 25c. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

WORSHIP ENORMOUS SERPENT.

Alleged Horrible Practice of Tribe of Indians in New Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., May 29.—In spite of the fact that a similar charge was investigated and dismissed by a grand jury some time ago, another complaint has been filed with the United States district attorney, Mr. Lewellyn, of New Mexico, that a tribe of Indians in that territory are given to the worship of an enormous serpent to which is fed the new born babes of a puebla in which it is housed and carefully tended and guarded.

The complaint was filed by a Catholic priest, who alleges that a dozen families were segregated from several pueblas two years ago and formed into a pueblo by themselves.

Although it is known that many children have been born to these families, not a child is to be found in the puebla. This led the priest to press his investigations with the result that he discovered in an adobe house, isolated and closely guarded, there is an enormous serpent which is worshiped by the Indians of all the pueblas, and that every babe born in the small puebla, and it is suspected in many others, is fed to the serpent.

Major Lewellyn, having no jurisdiction, has filed the affidavit of the priest and other evidence to the territorial authorities.

PEACE CONFERENCE.

Some Views of One of Japan's Prominent Statesmen.

Victoria, B. C., May 29.—Japanese newspapers received by the steamer Empress of India from Yokohama contain an interview with Count Okauma, one of Japan's most prominent statesmen, regarding the Hague peace conference in which he says:

"If Great Britain introduces an armament restriction proposal for debate Japan will support it, and possibly also the United States. It would be difficult to speculate, though, upon the probable attitude of the European powers upon the proposal. With regard to the regulation of military and naval battles, rights and duties of neutrals, regulation of wireless telegraphy and contraband of war, Japan and Russia had a claim to advance their views in view of their practical experiences. As far as Japan is concerned, the conference affords the best opportunity of promoting her position in international policies."

New York, May 29.—Suit to compel the Consolidated Gas company and the eight other companies doing business in this city, to relinquish their franchises and to take from them all the permits to use the streets which they now enjoy, was begun in the supreme court Tuesday by corporation counsel, Mr. Ellison, on behalf of the city of New York.

THE POCKET SAVINGS BANK EPIDEMIC RAGES FIERCELY ....IN GAINESVILLE....

Beneficent epidemics are scarce, but such a one has struck Gainesville, and people of every station and occupation have the fever.

It is most interesting and instructive to study the constantly changing line of applicants for Pocket Banks as it files through The Sun's business office. There is the mother, bringing her daughter with her and securing a bank for the girl, another for herself, and inquiring anxiously whether she may have another for the boy who is at work. She receives it promptly.

Boys come—some are steady, serious-faced chaps who have begun to think on their own account, and who ask questions about the operation of the scheme which show the results of rubbing up against the world.

Then the High School girls and boys, gay and active, while the workman and business man "slip in" during the noon hour to get a bank for the boy or girl at home, after asking one or two leading questions to make sure there is no joke about the 25 cents.

Hon. Robert F. Rogers of Marion county, one of the wheel horses of Florida democracy, and who is being very favorably mentioned for Governor of Florida, is in the city mingling with his friends, a guest of Hon. Frank Clark.

Senator Rogers is one of the best stump speakers in the State, and if he should yield to the importunities of his friends, he would create enthusiasm among thousands all over the State. He was formerly president of the Farmers' Alliance, but remained true to the Democratic party, and is a tower of strength among the people.

The writer is not able to state whether Senator Rogers will enter the lists or not, but does not hesitate to say that if he does in the parlance of the day "there'll be something doing."

Several friends called upon Senator Rogers at the Clark home Wednesday evening.

VOL. XXVI. NO. 87 GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1907 ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Several Big Knives Are After Cutting Expenses of State.

BOTH HOUSES ARE VERY BUSY

The situation at the close of the fifty-seventh day of the Legislature of 1907, with but three days remaining, is not all that could be wished for by the friends of the great number of bills now on the calendars and which only a few can by any possible chance be reached in this regular session.

When the Senate convened for the afternoon session, it was clearly apparent that dark clouds hung over that body and the cause was the appropriation bill for expenses of the State Government for the two years ending June 30, 1909. The tension was maintained during the entire afternoon session, which was directed to the consideration of this bill, and just prior to adjournment Senators gave notice practically to the effect that the bill would not come to a vote until every effort had been made to secure the full consideration of the measure.

At adjournment, the pending amendment was on the first section, covering the expenses of the last half of 1907. The principle involved Wednesday will be settled after this section is disposed of, the remaining two sections being for the year 1908, and first half of 1909. Still, if the opponents desire to continue the contest and offer to each of the remaining sections all the amendments offered to the first, and the debate is also continued, another day could be easily consumed. This bill, proposed by the committee on appropriations, carries a substantial increase over that of 1905, and it is along this line the legislative battle is being fought, the opposition endeavoring to reduce the appropriations called for in the bill to more nearly correspond with existing law.

Of all the amendments so far adopted, only one decreases the amount called for in the bill, that of Governor's private secretary, which was placed back to the amount he is now receiving. Others adopted increased the salary of the State chemist, and of some of the clerical force in various departments over that called for in the bill.

Plea for State Arsenal.

Wednesday afternoon, if the special order is strictly observed, will come up in the Senate the bill passed by the House making it unlawful to transport liquors from a wet to a dry county. This is the companion bill to that of Senator Humphries, which was withdrawn by the introducer to make room for the House measure.

The House bill, amending charter of Stetson University, was again postponed in the Senate until Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock.

The increase in the salary of the adjutant-general to $2,500, embraced in the bill, which has now passed both houses, was also by amendment provided for in the State expenses appropriation bill.

In the House the death of the State life insurance bill by indefinite postponement will probably also mean that the companion bill of Mr. Trammell in the Senate, which has been on special order for some time, will not be called up this session at any rate.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate was called to order at 9:30 Tuesday

Following were among new bills introduced:

By Mr. Adams—Making appropriation for expenses of the State Government for the term of years ending June 30, 1909.

By Mr. Jackson—Amending general statutes relating to exemption of wages from garnishment.

By Mr. Harris—Authorizing the State Board of Health to enact, promulgate and enforce rules for betterment and protection of the public health, was read the second time and under waiver of rules read the third time in full. On roll call the bill passed by vote of 28 to 2.

Senate bill No. 416, by Mr. Adams—To provide for the levy of taxes for the years 1907 and 1908, was then called up by Senator Adams and read in full second time. Senator Buckman offered amendments relative to increase milleage of levy should such be necessary.

Senator Adams accepted the amendment, which was adopted, and the bill ordered engrossed.

House bill No. 36, by Mr. Clarke of Jefferson—Providing penalty for procuring money on contract to perform service with intent to defraud and to present rules of evidence in such cases, a special order set for 10 o'clock, was called up by Senator Girardeau, read the third time in full and on roll call passed 27 to 0.

House bill No. 173, by Mr. Abernathy—Amending Sections 669, 694, 727, 728 and 733, general statutes relating to organized militia, was read in full the third time. The bill relates to personal and general staff of the Governor and the adjutant-general's department and fixes the salary of the adjutant-general at $2,500. On roll call the bill passed by vote of 20 to 3.

Messages of the House of Representatives were considered, on motion of Senator Humphries, and bills passed both houses, ordered enrolled and House bills ordered to proper committees, except in cases when immediate consideration was determined upon.

House bill No. 95, by Mr. Watson—Requiring payment of license tax by nonresident fishermen and prescribing penalty for failure to do so, read the second time with amendments, which were adopted. The rules waived and the bill read the third time and passed 26 to 1.

The Governor's Mansion bill, a special order set for Tuesday, was called up by Senator Henderson, being House bill No. 409, by Mr. Melton of Duval. The bill was read the second time and an amendment decreasing the appropriation to $18,000 was adopted. This amount is required for improvement and purchase of additional grounds and furnishing the mansion. The rules were waived and the bill read the third time and passed by vote of 17 to 7.

Senate bill No. 234, by Mr. Humphries—Making it unlawful to place any obstruction in public drains, ditches and canals in this State, was read in full the third time and passed, 22 to 0.

House bill No. 193, by Mr. Kirkland of Lake—Amending general statutes, relating to the working, repairing and maintaining the public roads and bridges of the several counties in the State, was read the second time in full and committee amendment adopted. At the suggestion of Senator Adams, the matter was informally passed in order to give Senators further opportunity to examine the bill.

Senate bill No. 213, by Mr. Clarke of Jefferson—To cancel certain tax sale certificates held by the State of Florida, was read the second time, rules waived, read the third time in full and passed, 26 to 0.

The House having passed Senate bill No. 464, the Massey railway mileage license bill, and returned same with House message, the bill was ordered enrolled.

The afternoon session was passed in discussing and amending the appropriation bill, when the Senate at 6:30 adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The House of Representatives was called to order at 9 a. m., by Speaker Matthews. Roll call, quorum present. Prayer by chaplain. Correction of journal of Saturday.

House resolution No. 93, by Mr. Malone of Munroe—Relating to pay of judiciary committee clerk. Lost.

House bill No. 584, by Mr. Faulkner—Prohibiting sale or gift of intoxicants to railroad employes.

House bill No. 585, by Mr. Faulkner—Relating to obstruction of public roads.

House bill No. 586, by Mr. Faulkner of Taylor—Relating to escapes from county jails or convict camps.

House bill No. 591, by Mr. McKenzie of Putnam—Drinking liquors on trains.

The committee on finance and taxation reported favorably Senate bill No. 394, by the Senate committee on finance and taxation, the general revenue bill, and 200 copies were ordered printed.

Select Order.

Senate judiciary committee substitute for House bill No. 17, by Mr. Knight of Citrus, relating to turpentine and timber removal on lands having tax certificates outstanding. Pending on adjournment. Passed on third reading, yeas 35, nays 12, Mr. Knight voting in the affirmative.

The consideration of messages from the Senate was then taken up, the House concurring in Senate amendments to a number of bills.

Senate concurrent resolution No. 19, by Mr. Trammell of the Seventh—Relating to powers of Interstate Commerce Commission; adopted.

House bill No. 546, by committee on finance and taxation—The general appropriation bill, was read the third time in full and passed, yeas 59, nays 1, (Mr. Roddenberry of Wakulla.)

Governor's message announcing signing of certain bills, was read and the House adjourned at 1 o'clock, until 2:30 p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Senate bill No. 247, by Mr. Jackson of the Ninth—Providing for appointment of a commission to adjust Indian war claims, was taken up and read in full, and provoked lengthy discussion, but was passed, 45 to 7.

Special Order.

House joint bill No. 246, by Mr. Paul of Holmes, relating to census and apportionment. The bill provided for one Senator and one Representative from each county, with one additional Representative for each 15,000 population, or major fraction thereof, no county to have more than four Representatives in the House. Mr. Calkins offered an amendment reducing maximum from four to three. Mr. Paul moved the adoption of the amendment, which was agreed to. Mr. Paul spoke very briefly in favor of the bill and on his motion it was read the third time, and put on final passage. The vote was yeas 62, nays, 1, Mr. Snell of Polk voting in the negative.

Senate judiciary committee substitute for Senate bill No. 108 and Senate bill No. 120, relating to pay of jurors; passed under suspension of rules.

WOMAN IS NOW IN JAIL

Francis Mulberry, an old negro woman who looks as though she might have turned the seventy-mile post several years ago, is guilty of an act of criminal operation, according to the dying statement of the victim, Queen Clements, a colored girl, twenty years of age.

This statement was made to Justice Colman on Saturday night by the woman, who was told that she was not long for this world, and who willingly gave her story, the Justice says.

The Mulberry woman was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Marshal Arnow, and is now confined in the Alachua county jail, where she will be likely to remain until the next session of the circuit court.

The story goes that the Mulberry woman, in an endeavor to accomplish the desired result, administered drugs which were effective, but which resulted in the death of the victim Sunday night.

Dr. R. B. Ayer, who had been called in to attend the woman for a hemorrhage of the nose, discovered through the symptoms of the patient the real condition of the case. This was on Saturday, and he immediately notified Justice Colman of his discovery. It was on Saturday evening that Justice Colman, accompanied by Dr. Ayer, went to the woman's home. She was told that she could not live, and that her dying declaration was wanted, when the victim related the whole story, in substance that she had enlightened the Mulberry woman of her condition, when she (Mulberry) told her not to be alarmed, that she would cure her. She gave her medicine, which was taken, and which proved fatal.

An Autopsy Performed.

After the death of the Clements woman, Drs. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., and Ayer, performed an autopsy, reporting that deceased came to her death from the cause of pelvic peritonitis.

The Coroner's Jury.

A coroner's jury was empanelled by Justice Colman, and after reviewing the dying statement of the woman, the report of the physicians and other evidence, a verdict was returned to the effect that the victim came to her death through an attempt of one Francis Mulberry, to accomplish a criminal operation.

NEW ODD FELLOWS' LODGE.

Was Organized at LaCrosse Few Days Ago With Big Membership.

LaCrosse is a thriving little town, inhabited by enterprising people who dislike to be behind the times in anything. As a result they usually keep apace with the rest of the county in improvements, commercial, fraternal and social.

The latest acquisition to LaCrosse is a lodge of Odd Fellows, which was instituted in that town recently with a good membership, fourteen having come in by card, with ten by initiation, making a total of twenty-four, with prospects of a rapidly increasing membership, for there is lots of good material for Odd Fellows in that section.

This lodge was instituted by a special team from Gainesville, assisted by Grand Master White. The presence of Grand Master White upon this occasion was quite an honor to the LaCrosse lodge, as it is very seldom his duties will permit him to attend institution of lodges of this size, his time being required largely in the more important centers, where he is kept busy. However, he learned that LaCrosse was to have a lodge, and, ascertaining the date, made it convenient to be on hand.

The team from Gainesville comprised Special Deputy J. W. Blanding, Grand Secretary A. M. Cushman, Robt. McClellan, Col. L. E. Webster, J. H. Morton, J. I. Blake, L. B. Parrish, W. H. Gunz, J. M. Rivers.

The entire four degrees were conferred in a most impressive manner by this team, after which officers of the new-born lodge were duly elected and installed, and the lodge started out with the brightest prospects.

MRS. WM. M'KINLEY PASSES FROM EARTH

SHE PASSED AWAY PEACEFULLY

Dissolution Was So Peaceful that the Physicians Had Difficulty in Telling When Final End Came—Sketch of Her Life.

Canton, O., May 28.—At 1:05 p. m. Sunday afternoon, Mrs. McKinley fell into the sleep that knows no awakening. The transition from life to death was so peaceful and gradual that it was with difficulty that the vigilant physicians and attendants noted when dissolution came.

There was no struggle—no pain. Mrs. McKinley never knew of the efforts made for days to prolong her life, nor of the solicitous hope against hope of her sister and other relatives and friends for her recovery.

MRS. WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

Mrs. McKinley's last words were for death. An attendant said: "Mrs. McKinley would say, 'Why should I linger?' Please God, if it is Thy will, why defer it.' She would say also, 'He is gone now, and life is dark to me.' Other kindred expressions would also fall from her lips."

At the McKinley home when death came there were present Secretary Cortelyou, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Barber, Mrs. Sarah Duncan, Mrs. Luther Day, Justice and Mrs. William R. Day, Drs. Portmann and Rixey and the nurses.

"Mrs. McKinley lasted hours longer than we expected," said the secretary. "Her vitality was wonderful," said Dr. Portmann.

The funeral arrangements, so far as made, are that Dr. Buxton will have charge of the services, which are to be simple, and they will be held at the McKinley residence at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Secretary Cortelyou is directing the arrangements, and will remain here until after the funeral.

The headquarters will be Hotel Lanier, and the sessions will be held at the Grand opera house. It is expected that a large delegation will be present.

The principle involved Wednesday will be settled after this section is disposed of, the remaining two sections being for the year 1908, and first half of 1909. Still, if the opponents desire to continue the contest and offer to each of the remaining sections all the amendments offered to the first, and the debate is also continued, another day could be easily consumed. This bill, proposed by the committee on appropriations, carries a substantial increase over that of 1905, and it is along this line the legislative battle is being fought, the opposition endeavoring to reduce the appropriations called for in the bill to more nearly correspond with existing law.

Of all the amendments so far adopted, only one decreases the amount called for in the bill, that of Governor's private secretary, which was placed back to the amount he is now receiving. Others adopted increased the salary of the State chemist, and of some of the clerical force in various departments over that called for in the bill.

Plea for State Arsenal.

Wednesday afternoon, if the special order is strictly observed, will come up in the Senate the bill passed by the House making it unlawful to transport liquors from a wet to a dry county. This is the companion bill to that of Senator Humphries, which was withdrawn by the introducer to make room for the House measure.

The House bill, amending charter of Stetson University, was again postponed in the Senate until Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock.

The increase in the salary of the adjutant-general to $2,500, embraced in the bill, which has now passed both houses, was also by amendment provided for in the State expenses appropriation bill.

In the House the death of the State life insurance bill by indefinite postponement will probably also mean that the companion bill of Mr. Trammell in the Senate, which has been on special order for some time, will not be called up this session at any rate.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate was called to order at 9:30 Tuesday

Following were among new bills introduced:

By Mr. Adams—Making appropriation for expenses of the State Government for the term of years ending June 30, 1909.

By Mr. Jackson—Amending general statutes relating to exemption of wages from garnishment.

By Mr. Harris—Authorizing the State Board of Health to enact, promulgate and enforce rules for betterment and protection of the public health, was read the second time and under waiver of rules read the third time in full. On roll call the bill passed by vote of 28 to 2.

Senate bill No. 416, by Mr. Adams—To provide for the levy of taxes for the years 1907 and 1908, was then called up by Senator Adams and read in full second time. Senator Buckman offered amendments relative to increase milleage of levy should such be necessary.

Senator Adams accepted the amendment, which was adopted, and the bill ordered engrossed.

House bill No. 36, by Mr. Clarke of Jefferson—Providing penalty for procuring money on contract to perform service with intent to defraud and to present rules of evidence in such cases, a special order set for 10 o'clock, was called up by Senator Girardeau, read the third time in full and on roll call passed 27 to 0.

House bill No. 173, by Mr. Abernathy—Amending Sections 669, 694, 727, 728 and 733, general statutes relating to organized militia, was read in full the third time. The bill relates to personal and general staff of the Governor and the adjutant-general's department and fixes the salary of the adjutant-general at $2,500. On roll call the bill passed by vote of 20 to 3.

Messages of the House of Representatives were considered, on motion of Senator Humphries, and bills passed both houses, ordered enrolled and House bills ordered to proper committees, except in cases when immediate consideration was determined upon.

House bill No. 95, by Mr. Watson—Requiring payment of license tax by nonresident fishermen and prescribing penalty for failure to do so, read the second time with amendments, which were adopted. The rules waived and the bill read the third time and passed 26 to 1.

The Governor's Mansion bill, a special order set for Tuesday, was called up by Senator Henderson, being House bill No. 409, by Mr. Melton of Duval. The bill was read the second time and an amendment decreasing the appropriation to $18,000 was adopted. This amount is required for improvement and purchase of additional grounds and furnishing the mansion. The rules were waived and the bill read the third time and passed by vote of 17 to 7.

Senate bill No. 234, by Mr. Humphries—Making it unlawful to place any obstruction in public drains, ditches and canals in this State, was read in full the third time and passed, 22 to 0.

House bill No. 193, by Mr. Kirkland of Lake—Amending general statutes, relating to the working, repairing and maintaining the public roads and bridges of the several counties in the State, was read the second time in full and committee amendment adopted. At the suggestion of Senator Adams, the matter was informally passed in order to give Senators further opportunity to examine the bill.

Senate bill No. 213, by Mr. Clarke of Jefferson—To cancel certain tax sale certificates held by the State of Florida, was read the second time, rules waived, read the third time in full and passed, 26 to 0.

The House having passed Senate bill No. 404, the Massey railway mileage license bill, and returned same with House message, the bill was ordered enrolled.

The afternoon session was passed in discussing and amending the appropriation bill, when the Senate at 6:30 adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday.

Afternoon Session.

Senate bill No. 247, by Mr. Jackson of the Ninth—Providing for appointment of a commission to adjust Indian war claims, was taken up and read in full, and provoked lengthy discussion, but was passed, 45 to 7.

AGED NEGRO WOMAN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

WOMAN IS NOW IN JAIL

Francis Mulberry, an old negro woman who looks as though she might have turned the seventy-mile post several years ago, is guilty of an act of criminal operation, according to the dying statement of the victim, Queen Clements, a colored girl, twenty years of age.

This statement was made to Justice Colman on Saturday night by the woman, who was told that she was not long for this world, and who willingly gave her story, the Justice says.

The Mulberry woman was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Marshal Arnow, and is now confined in the Alachua county jail, where she will be likely to remain until the next session of the circuit court.

The story goes that the Mulberry woman, in an endeavor to accomplish the desired result, administered drugs which were effective, but which resulted in the death of the victim Sunday night.

Dr. R. B. Ayer, who had been called in to attend the woman for a hemorrhage of the nose, discovered through the symptoms of the patient the real condition of the case. This was on Saturday, and he immediately notified Justice Colman of his discovery. It was on Saturday evening that Justice Colman, accompanied by Dr. Ayer, went to the woman's home. She was told that she could not live, and that her dying declaration was wanted, when the victim related the whole story, in substance that she had enlightened the Mulberry woman of her condition, when she (Mulberry) told her not to be alarmed, that she would cure her. She gave her medicine, which was taken, and which proved fatal.

An Autopsy Performed.

After the death of the Clements woman, Drs. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., and Ayer, performed an autopsy, reporting that deceased came to her death from the cause of pelvic peritonitis.

The Coroner's Jury.

A coroner's jury was empanelled by Justice Colman, and after reviewing the dying statement of the woman, the report of the physicians and other evidence, a verdict was returned to the effect that the victim came to her death through an attempt of one Francis Mulberry, to accomplish a criminal operation.

NEW ODD FELLOWS' LODGE.

Was Organized at LaCrosse Few Days Ago With Big Membership.

LaCrosse is a thriving little town, inhabited by enterprising people who dislike to be behind the times in anything. As a result they usually keep apace with the rest of the county in improvements, commercial, fraternal and social.

The latest acquisition to LaCrosse is a lodge of Odd Fellows, which was instituted in that town recently with a good membership, fourteen having come in by card, with ten by initiation, making a total of twenty-four, with prospects of a rapidly increasing membership, for there is lots of good material for Odd Fellows in that section.

This lodge was instituted by a special team from Gainesville, assisted by Grand Master White. The presence of Grand Master White upon this occasion was quite an honor to the LaCrosse lodge, as it is very seldom his duties will permit him to attend institution of lodges of this size, his time being required largely in the more important centers, where he is kept busy. However, he learned that LaCrosse was to have a lodge, and, ascertaining the date, made it convenient to be on hand.

The team from Gainesville comprised Special Deputy J. W. Blanding, Grand Secretary A. M. Cushman, Robt. McClellan, Col. I. E. Webster, J. H. Morton, J. I. Blake, L. B. Parrish, W. H. Gunz, J. M. Rivers.

The entire four degrees were conferred in a most impressive manner by this team, after which officers of the new-born lodge were duly elected and installed, and the lodge started out with the brightest prospects.

MRS. WM. M'KINLEY PASSES FROM EARTH

Dissolution Was So Peaceful that the Physicians Had Difficulty in Telling When Final End Came—Sketch of Her Life.

Canton, O., May 28.—At 1:05 p. m. Sunday afternoon, Mrs. McKinley fell into the sleep that knows no awakening. The transition from life to death was so peaceful and gradual that it was with difficulty that the vigilant physicians and attendants noted when dissolution came.

There was no struggle—no pain. Mrs. McKinley never knew of the efforts made for days to prolong her life, nor of the solicitous hope against hope of her sister and other relatives and friends for her recovery.

MRS. WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

Mrs. McKinley's last words were for death. An attendant said: "Mrs. McKinley would say, 'Why should I linger?' Please God, if it is Thy will, why defer it.' She would say also, 'He is gone now, and life is dark to me.' Other kindred expressions would also fall from her lips."

At the McKinley home when death came there were present Secretary Cortelyou, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Barber, Mrs. Sarah Duncan, Mrs. Luther Day, Justice and Mrs. William R. Day, Drs. Portmann and Rixey and the nurses.

"Mrs. McKinley lasted hours longer than we expected," said the secretary. "Her vitality was wonderful," said Dr. Portmann.

The funeral arrangements, so far as made, are that Dr. Buxton will have charge of the services, which are to be simple, and they will be held at the McKinley residence at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Secretary Cortelyou is directing the arrangements, and will remain here until after the funeral.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT CLOSING OF UNIVERSITY OF STATE OF FLORIDA

Two Excellent Sermons Were Delivered During Sunday.

INTERESTING PROGRAM MONDAY

The Program Began in Morning With Declamation Contest—Concert in Afternoon—Oratorical Contest in the Evening, All Well Attended.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

The Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the University of the State of Florida was delivered on Sunday morning, May 26, by Reverend S. Y. Jameson, D. D., President of Mercer University. The services were held in the Tabernacle, and the building was completely filled, indicating an audience of about one thousand people. The pastor of the Methodist church, Reverend T. J. Nixon, opened the service with prayer, after which the congregation sang the Italian hymn, "Come, Though Almighty King." The music was lead by a male choir from the University, assisted by the orchestra.

President Sledd introduced the speaker who read a portion of the Third Chapter of the Acts of the Apostles and chose for his text the words of Peter, "Such as I Have Given Thee." Dr. Jameson is a pleasing and forcible speaker and as he unfolded and developed his theme the audience realized that it was listening to a sermon of great power. The following are some of the leading thoughts presented:

All young people indulge in fond dreams of what they would do if they possessed great riches and the dreams provide for great beneficiencies to the world. We imagine we speak the truth when we say what we would do were we as rich as Carnegie, but the real test of what we will do in the future is the use we make of our present possessions. If we are not faithful in what we now have we will not be faithful in our possessions in the future.

What, then, does a young man without wealth possess that he may give to the world, and by which he may judge of the sincerity of his desire to benefit his fellow men? There are certain things which we all possess in common, and which it is our duty to give to the world.

1st, The God given capacity to think. While all possess this capacity, few really use it, and the expression, "I did not think," is a common excuse for failure in life. The majority of people are content to follow in the paths made by others, accepting the results of their thinking and adopting their customs, thus failing to use the God given power to blaze out a path of their own. Let all young men form a life plan for the purpose of developing the power to the service of the world.

2nd, The capacity to work. All people are endowed with the native ability to direct energy along wisely laid plans, but few use this ability unless forced to do so by dire necessity. Let young men early adopt the habit of discharging fixed daily tasks in order to train themselves for intelligent service. "If we cannot give the world libraries, we can give it a life filled with painstaking efforts."

3d. The power to love and sympathize. Man's greatest need is sympathy, but too often we allow the fountains of love and good will to dry up. Affection unbestowed always diminishes. Numerous instances were cited where sympathy bestowed at the right time had saved young men from a life of despair to a life of usefulness and power. Sympathy is the teacher's greatest asset in his work of building men and women. Garfield was lead into the halls of a college when a young man by the sympathetic statement of its president, "We will be glad to have you."

Dr. Jameson closed his address with a strong appeal to the young men of the graduating class to go out into the world and use these God given possessions in the spirit of the words of St. Peter, "Such as I Have I Give."

Reverend Hay of the Presbyterian church offered the closing prayer and after singing the doxology, the congregation was dismissed by Dr. Jameson.

Sunday Evening Session.

The annual sermon before the University Y. M. C. A. was delivered Sunday evening by the Rev. Mr. Hay of Gainesville. After the invocation by the Rev. Mr. Craighill, and a hymn led by the University Sextette, Dr. Hay made a strong appeal to the young men of the Y. M. C. A., basing his remarks on I John, II, 14, "I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you and ye have overcome the wicked one."

Mr. Hay pointed out that Christianity appeals particularly to strong young men, and showed how Jesus was an ideal young man because of his manliness and strength. Young men have physical contests that tests their strength; Jesus Christ, as a young man, had contests and struggles that tested His strength and in all He came out conqueror. The young man, who is to enter a physical or intellectual contest, must sacrifice some of his desire in order that he may prepare himself for the struggle; he is called upon by Christ to sacrifice many of his desires that he may win in the contest with temptation. The young men of today have that "call to battle." The warriors needed are active, brave, courageous, strong, young men, young men who will add to their victories on the athletic field to the victories in their college halls, who will to these and similar victories add victories over self and over the wicked one.

The sermon closed with a stirring account of the victories Christianity is winning and of how yearly more and more young men are seeking for its standard.

The exercises of the evening were ended by a prayer by President Sledd, a prayer of gratitude for the past, a petition for future victories on the part of the members of the Y. M. C. A. After singing the doxology the audience was dismissed with the benediction by Dr. Hay.

The Declamation Contest.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock the annual declamation contest took place between members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes. A very handsome prize presented by the trustees will be awarded on Tuesday morning to the winner, whose name will be announced at the same time. The judges were Major Thomas, Col. Morrow, and the Rev. Mr. Nixon. The contestants and the titles of their selections were as follows: J. H. Vidal of Gainesville, "Regelus to the Roman Senate;" W. B. Martin of Watertown, "Henry Grady," N. Barrs of Gainesville, "Consolidation;" W. W. Gibbs of St. Petersburg, "Visions of War;" S. S. Smith of Aradondo, "Spartacus to the Gladiators;" O. R. Albright of Gainesville, "The American Republic;" S. E. Jenkins of Lake City, "Eulogy on Washington."

The pleasure of the audience was enchanced by several selections extremely well rendered by the Duval Orchestra.

Concert at Chapel.

A goodly audience gathered in the University chapel on Monday afternoon to enjoy a concert given by the Duval Orchestra. Just outside the building a great many carriages were stationed, the occupants of which could hear as well as those inside. This concert proved to be one of the most enjoyable ever held in Gainesville, and all were sorry that more numbers were not rendered. The program follows:

1. "The Pike," march by Laurendean.
2. Briday Rose Overture, by Lavallee. Trombone solo, by T. J. Mott, Jr. "Good Night, Beloved, Good Night."
3. American Fantasties, by Benedix.
4. "The Tenderfoot," by Anderson.
5. "The Rattler March," by Held.

Evening Oratorical Contest.

Oratorical contests between the members of the junior and of the senior classes took place on Monday evening in the Tabernacle. The occasion was enlivened by the Duval Orchestra. The contestants and the subject of their orations follow:

From the Junior class—C. W. Fisher of Gainesville, "The Alchemy of Thought;" R. F. Persons of Ft. White, "The Industrial Department of the South;" R. J. Carter, "The Future South;" R. B. Carter of Marianna, "The Future University of the State of Florida;" J. B. Earman of West Palm Beach, "Child Labor in the Southern Cotton Mills."

From the Senior Class—T. Z. Cason of Island Grove, "The Progress of Democracy;" M. L. Moremen of Switzerland, "Socialism of the Future;" H. Gunter of Pierson, "Educational Tendencies;" C. C. Tompkins of Jasper, "University Education."

The decision of the judges will be announced and handsome medals given by the trustees will be awarded to each of the winners Thursday morning.

Dr. Rogers' Condition.

Friends of Rev. S. B. Rogers, who is still with his family at Tallahassee, will regret to learn that his condition seems unimproved.

Dr. Rogers, who was granted unanimously a leave of absence for six months by the Baptist congregation in order that he might regain his health if possible, proposes to spend a greater part of this time in Georgia. Physically he has been in bad condition for some time.

THREE NEW BUILDINGS FOR THE UNIVERSITY

They Will be Up-to-Date Structures of Stone and Brick.

MODELS OF ARCHITECTURE

Walter & Edwards, Supervising Architects, Will Immediately Begin Work on Plans, Which Will be Submitted to Board of Control for Approval.

With the opening of the University in the fall of 1908, the probabilities are very strong that the faculty and students will enjoy the convenience of three additional magnificent brick and stone buildings, since the magnificent sum of $150,000 has been generously appropriated by the Legislature, to be applied for new buildings at the University.

These buildings, like those first erected, will be no shoddy affairs, but first-class and modern in every respect, and structures that would be a credit to any university in the world. They will be college buildings, especially adapted for the purpose for which they are intended, and will add a great deal to the appearance and the convenience of Florida's pride—the new University of the State of Florida.

Those who have not visited the University grounds really cannot comprehend what a fine institution, and what a beautiful place it is now. The progress has been wonderful, as well as energetic, with the result that the University in its infancy in Gainesville is a great deal larger than the old East Florida Seminary ever was, in its most flourishing days, and as a matter of course, there is no comparison in the class of buildings. The grounds are beautifully laid out, the athletic field is modern, the experimental farm is as modern as can be found anywhere, considering the time it has been established, and altogether there is a general air of neatness and system.

W. A. Edwards, member of the firm of Walter & Edwards, Columbia, S. C., the supervising architects of the Board of Control who designed the present buildings, left Gainesville Tuesday for his home, after attending to some business matters here in connection with the University. Mr. Edwards states that he will immediately begin the preparation of plans for three of the new college buildings, which will be ready in the course of a few weeks for the inspection and approval of the Board of Control, as soon as possible after which the work of construction will begin. Under favorable conditions, there being no difficulty in securing labor and material, the three buildings should be completed within eight months. The material to be used will be brick and stone, the same as the present buildings.

This will not only mean a busy summer for Gainesville, but that at the end of 1908 the University of Florida will be grander and greater than ever, with many additional changes.

AUSPICIOUS CLOSING OF THE UNIVERSITY
AFTER A SEASON OF GRATIFYING SUCCESS

The second annual commencement exercises of the University of the State of Florida were held in the Tabernacle in Gainesville, on Tuesday morning, May 28, 1907.

The program was opened with prayer by Reverend F. H. Craighill of the Episcopal church. The Duval Orchestra of Jacksonville rendered some beautiful music, after which Mr. A. R. Nielsen, second honor man of the senior class, delivered the salutatory address. After paying a neat tribute to the city of Gainesville, and bidding the visitors welcome in a few well-chosen words, Mr. Nielsen proceeded to develop the theme of his address, which was "Agricultural Education." He traced the history of the development of agricultural education from its first beginning among the monks of the middle ages to the present great system of agricultural colleges of which are found in the United States alone more than 60,000 students, of whom more than nine thousand persue the strictly agricultural course. He showed the great economic value of the farmer to the nation, and proved that to become fully efficient under present economic conditions the farmer must have a college education along lines pertaining to his business. The agricultural college must see that the best blood from the farms is no longer taken to fill the ranks of the other professions and callings, but that it is trained to go back to the farms and make them produce more in order that they may meet the demands that are growing upon them. "Now is the time for young men to enter the agricultural college and train themselves that they may have that full command of broad-developed minds necessary to meet the demands of modern democracy."

Lr. Sledd's Address.

The baccalaureate address was delivered by Dr. Andrew Sledd, president of the University. Dr. Sledd chose for his subject "The Liberating Power of Education." The following notes show the trend of the discourse:

"Francis Bacon, in his treatise on 'The Advancement of Learning,' observes that idols are the deepest fallacies of the human mind. The idols to the worship of which the race is given Bacon treats under three heads: 'Idols of the tribe,' meaning that group of common beliefs and practices to which men give themselves because of natural predisposition, habit, association or environment; the 'idols of the cave,' meaning the body of unthought opinions which, acquired by the accident of birth and surroundings, still constitute the so-called mental stock of so many people; and finally, 'the idols of the market place,' which are stock words and phrases, glibly used without a thought of their real meaning or value, or a question as to their accuracy or truth.

"The great function of education is to shatter the idols of tribe and cave and market place, and to lead men from the outward traditions of the tribe, from the cheap shallow chatter of the market place, from the shadows and unrealities of their idol-filled caves into the sunshine and the glory of the real and true.

"Culture is a certain by-product of the educational process, taken in its broadest sense; a kind of efflorescence of all educative experiences; the active, vital, originating life spirit behind all knowledge; a certain mental attitude to the world, and the expression of this attitude in character and conduct. If we seem to use 'education' as synonymous with 'culture,' it is on the basis of the definition of education, as not a mere receptive process, but a process of quickening and inspiration. It is a new birth, and all the power and the promise, the growth and glory of a new and boundless life. There is in man, though he may never have read a book or crossed the threshold of a school—there is in man, because he is man—a latent capacity for personal enlargement so great, and achievement so high, that imagination cannot compass it. Often, indeed, like the wheat in old Egyptian tombs, the mental and spirit life has been sealed up in cold and silent isolation. But education bursts the tomb of ignorance and lethargy and littleness and impotence, and brings forth the precious seed into the sunshine and the dew, and, lo! a hero, a saint, a power in life and death, and a heritage of glory for the race. This is education.

"That education has devoted itself nobly and magnanimously, and with great success, to the task of freeing man from his pathetic bondage to adverse physical conditions, no man will deny. It was only by the development of the brain of primitive man that he was able to cope with the great dangers and difficulties that surrounded him, and the very survival of the race and its progress, however slow and tragic, but finally triumphant, has been due and will be due, not to muscular superiority, but to bigger and better brains. The history of science, especially of medicine, has been largely the story of this conflict for the freeing of the race. Primitive man died under the scourge of unknown diseases. Medical science at last came to his rescue and freed him from a terror which he did not understand. Primitive man was limited by mountains and rivers and the narrow confines of his own small range. Science harnessed steam and yoked the lightning to her charriot, and brought to man the message that he should become a free inhabitant of a great free world. And steadily against adverse conditions education has fought for freedom; has won its victories in the past; and will win its greater victories in the days to come.

"In its second and highest sense the liberating power of culture has to do with narrowness, bigotry, prejudice and pride. Here, too, education has done a mighty work for the cause of freedom, but a mighty work remains yet for it to do. For here it touches ourselves and our dearest prepossessions; and here, as in the past, we hesitate and stumble. Willingly or unwillingly we recognize the plainer facts of history, but we refuse to learn their lesson, misinterpret them or set an arbitrary limit to their significance. It is here we encounter the misshapen and malicious 'idols of the cave,' which are the deepest fallacies of the human mind. Here has always been the bitterest fight for freedom, and here always the brightest victories of truth and knowledge. Victory is as inevitable as death, and these strongest, most cherished idols of the cave shall fall and be shattered before the truth and knowledge as Dagon before the ark of the Most High God.

"That despotism should give place to monarchy, and it in turn to at least a semblance of democracy, seems to us wise and right, for we are born under a democracy, and we are the people. But we forget the infinite toil and travail of the struggle, the bitter resistance of the hoary idols and the pitiful sacrifices of many martyrs before their overthrow. We say, 'If we had been in the days of our fathers we would not have been partakers of the blood of the prophets.' But we would. Good men of old believed in the divine right of kings and that a despotism and then a monarchy was the best and wisest, the God-ordained form of human government, just as we now believe that a democracy is the best form.

"But now that we live under a democracy we worship this idol to whose service we were born; and if a man tells us of change, he is a socialist and therefore dangerous, or an anarchist and therefore damned! On the contrary he may be that prophet for whom the ages wait, the forerunner of a brighter and a better day. And after his humiliation and rejection, his stoning the crucifixion, our children will 'build the tombs of the prophet and garnish the sepulchre of the righteous,' and wonder at our blindness and our folly! Oh foolish man! must it always be so? Shall we never recognize the prophet until he is dead?

"We view with equanimity the old time process of religious thought that years, bringing truth and knowledge, should strip earlier man of what we call his superstitions, seems to us now both proper and providential. But remember that he did not call them 'superstition;' they were sacred to him, the hallowed elements of his holy religion. And it is a proud and ruthless reading of history and human hearts to forget the travail and sorrow of the loss of nymph, oracle, druid, and god. As we look back we see that it was best; but then only the few leaders freed from bondage to their day and its prevailing temper, could see beyond their day, could join in shattering popular idols and commit themselves to the new order.

"As with paganism so with Judaism in its fall. Those who crucified the Christ, stoned Stephen, and persecuted Paul, were not all bad men. They were merely the blind adherents of the old order, and they took what means seemed necessary to preserve the existing order, and oppose the innovations. It has become the custom with us to regard them as peculiarly reprobate and blind. But that is because now we see the splendor that has accomplished Juda's fall. They saw only the impending ruin and the desolation, hence the sorrow and the bitterness! It was the world-old struggle between the old and the new—the world-old ever-new worship of the idols of the cave.

"All progress to our present state has been over many shattered idols, once held dear. If we inquire why progress has been so tragic, we shall find the reason in the blind worship by each man and age and race of its own idols of cave and tribe and market place, because the attitude and act of worship is both grounded in and tends to perpetuate mental modes which are essentially opposed to change. These established mental modes are commonly lethargy and fear, and a lack of humility or teachableness, and a lack of faith. Lethargy rules the mass of men, who eat and drink and therewith are content. Fear rules with even wider sway the minds of men, and many even who should be leaders in the march of progress look to the future big-eyed with some fear of change. Pride allies itself with fear to support the idols of the day, and oppose a progress from them to better things. Each age and race thinks its way the best, and its creed and practice the culmination of the ages. We are unteachable either by the lesson of history or the prophecy of hope. Considering our time and way the best, we are impatient of contradiction, and proudly repudiate the thought of betterment.

"Both fear and pride find their basis and their bulwark in the lack of faith—lack of that larger, vital, splendid faith in the dignity and the destiny of men and the goodness and the glory of his God. We bind men to small achievements; ye limit God in time and deeds. Called to the mountain tops, we dwell in valleys; called to the palaces of princes, we dwell in the hovel of the slave! And, alas, the tragedy of it! We dream that the darkness, the miasmic vapor of the valley, is the glorious free air of the great I Am; and we dream that the hovels of our servitude are palaces fit for princes and sons of God. Would that some voice divine might speak to our dead faith and quicken it, both with the prophesy and the power of deeds and glory becoming our dignity and our God.

"To you young men, standing bright eyed and strong upon the portals of a mighty future, I commend the brief and pithy saying of a poet no longer read: 'He builds too low who builds beneath the stars.' Your education must shake off lethargy, for it is a principle of activity and power; and it must conquer fear, for it is the prestige of progress and of victory; it must save you from false pride and stubbornness, because it teaches you at once your frailty, your liability to err, as well as your powers and capacity for great achievement; and it must quicken you with a glad, grand faith that drives onward and upward toward the highest and the best, until at last you come to be strong and active, fearless and free; and, standing beneath the stars or in the noonday glare, may lift your heads to the heavens and draw from thence your power and consecration. Active, fearless, humble, without servility, and filled with the majesty of a triumphant faith, go forth conquering and to conquer."

Presentation of Medals.

After the baccalaureate address Honorable N. P. Bryan, president of the Board of Control, announced the winners in the various contests and presented the following medals:

A medal given by Senator Buckman for proficiency in engineering work, W. W. Gibbs.

A medal given by the Board of Control to the successful freshman or sophomore contestant in declamation, W. B. Martin.

A medal given by the Board of Control to the best junior orator, C. M. Fisher.

A medal given by the Board of Control to the best senior orator, T. Z. Cason.

Diplomas were then given to the graduates by President Sledd. The degree of Bachelor of Science was conferred upon the following men: M. L. Moreman, A. R. Nielsen, H. Gunter and C. A. Tompkins.

Mr. M. L. Moreman, valedictory and first honor man of the class, in a few well-chosen words bade good bye to the city, the University and the faculty. He paid a touching tribute to the great love and devotion to the students shown by Dr. Sledd.

Thus closed the second year of the life for the University of the State of Florida with happy omens for a prosperous future.

MISS JULIE FLORENCE WALSH

WOMEN SUFFER

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong?

The cause may be easily traced to some feminine derangement which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, dragging sensations, flatulency, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded, a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The best remedy for all these symptoms is made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Miss J. F. Walsh, of 328 W. 36th St., New York City, writes:—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pains in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and organic diseases. It is invaluable in preparing for child-birth and during the Change of Life. It cures Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

DRAINAGE BILL HAS PASSED BOTH HOUSES

Passage of Measure Shows Governor Broward's Strength.

THE INVESTIGATING COMMISSION

To Investigate Transactions of Internal Improvement Board from 1853 Up to Date—Passage of Child Labor Bill—Other Legislative Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)

Tallahassee May 27.—The closing week of the session finds the Legislature with a number of important bills in its hands, in addition to a great mass of undigested matter, the greater part of which must necessarily be left on the calendar when next Friday night the gavel falls for the last time.

Mr. Crane's drainage bill has passed both houses, and by majorities that clearly indicated Governor Broward's strength. The State insurance bill came up in the Senate early in the week, and while it is not likely to pass, Senator Trammell will, no doubt, put up a strong fight for what is one of the Governor's pet measures. The chief objection to this bill arises from the fear that it may be the means of foisting on the State a political machine, something in the order of the South Carolina dispensary arrangement, which that State, by the way, has recently abolished.

The passage of the Massey bill taxing the railroads $10 a mile regardless of their financial condition, was something of a surprise, as the Senate had already voted down two franchise tax bills. The passage of this bill will be strongly contested in the House, but the general opinion is that it will go through all right, in which case Mr. Matthews of Marion will hardly push his franchise tax bill.

The immigration bill has not yet passed, and so little time now remains that it may be lost sight of in the haste and confusion of the closing hours of the session.

As for the good roads question, that has been replied to in the negative by the House, which at a recent night session put no less than six bills on the subject to sleep.

The Tampa fair bill has not yet passed, but as the Tampa delegation here is a strong one, it will probably prove successful. It is generally believed that a deal has been made between the Tampa fair people and the Pinellas county promoters by which the latter are to support the fair appropriation bill, while, on the other hand, the friends of that bill will consent to the division of Hillsboro county. There is, therefore, but little doubt that both bills will eventually pass.

Governor Broward's veto of the Jacksonville charter amendment bill introduced by Mr. Farris of Duval has given rise to considerable bad feeling, but it is difficult to see how the Governor could have done otherwise, under the circumstances. At the time the House refused to pass the bill over the veto, Mr. Farris announced his intention of introducing another bill on the same subject; but Mr. Melton of Duval assures your correspondent that this will not be done. According to Uncle Steve, the Governor will sign no bill providing for the popular election of the Jacksonvill bond trustees, and the same gentleman is also firm in his conviction that the veto was in reality written in Jacksonville.

The Senate has managed to pass the revenue bill, and the House will, no doubt, rush it through at the last minute. The bill increasing the salaries of the cabinet officers has been knocked out in the Senate, although, as a matter of fact, these officials get little enough. However economical the Senate may have been in this direction, it has certainly spent any amount of money in other ways, and it is going to be a question of making both ends meet in this State for the next few years.

The final passage of the child labor bill reflects great credit on Mr. S. J. Tripiett of Jacksonville, who represents the labor unions here. The bill was so amended as to make the age limit 12 years. The bureau of labor bill has been amended by the Senate, making the bureau "an adjunct of the Department of Agriculture," and the "Commissioner" merely a clerk.

The bill providing for a commission to investigate the Internal Improvement Fund from 1853 up to date, has been passed, and will be composed as follows: On the part of the Senate, Senators Buckman, West and Humphries. On the part of the House, Messrs. Knight of Columbia, Reese, Carter, Griggs and Watson. The bill carries a $5,000 appropriation for expenses, and it is generally conceded that an extra session will be called to receive the report of the commission, which will not, however, be ready for some months.

Taking into consideration the cost of this extra session, together with the heavy appropriations made for educational and other purposes, it may readily be seen that this is likely to be one of the most expensive sessions of the Florida Legislature on record.

In the matter of committee clerks both House and Senate have been unusually lavish, and old-timers tell me tnat no Legislature since that of 1889 has spent so much money in this direction.

Another peculiarity of this session has been the manner in which important measures have been put off until the last minute. Such bills as those relating to revenue, good roads, immigration and State insurance should have been taken up and disposed of long ago.

The anti-pass bill has passed its second reading in the House, but seems to be a somewhat superfluous measure, as its provisions can very easily be evaded by the issuing of mileage books or tickets; but this Legislature has clearly got it in for the "corporations."

What such legislation really means may readily be seen by the probable effect of some of these anti-telegraph bills, one of which is so drastic that it is learned that the Western Union will probably close over 70 of its smaller offices, while the Postal will make no further addition to its facilities in this State. It is the people who will, after all, suffer most.

Mr. Willis' bill providing for "assistance" to illiterate voters at the polls, went on the rocks in the Senate, partly on the ground that it would tend to nullify the Australian ballot system. On the other hand, the bill naming Philbrofen, near Jacksonville, as the site for the annual encampment of the State troops, has passed. The passage of this bill involves no expense to the State, the citizens of Jacksonville having pledged $6,000 toward the purchase price, while the United States Government will give $8,000 more, provided a rifle range is established, which will, of course, be done.

Mr. Knight of Citrus has introduced in the House a bill providing for a commission to examine the phosphate beds in the rivers of the State, with a view of fixing adequate royalties to be paid into the treasury. The State certainly needs the money all right.

Another bill of considerable importance is one in the House providing for the appointment of a State bank examiner at a salary of $2,000 and traveling expenses. It is, however, understood that the fees paid by the banks will more than counterbalance any expense involved.

Mr. Wartmann of Marion did a remarkable thing in the House last Monday, when he had a bill put through to third reading under suspension of the rules, and the bill was in itself remarkable, too, being nothing more nor less than a prohibition of the pernicious practice of "tipping," with a penalty of $200 fine, or six months' imprisonment. Ed will hereafter be known as the traveling man's friend.

The Senate has passed Mr. Faulkner's bill requiring men found intoxicated in dry counties to disclose the nature of the source from which the booze was derived; but the failure of the prohibition resolution to pass the House shows clearly enough that the Legislature is not going to extremes on the temperance question.

CLOSING OF SCHOOL.

St. Augustine Episcopal Mission Finished a Successful Term.

Sunday, May 26, 10:30 a. m., a large congregation gathered in the chapel to hear the baccalaureate sermon, which was preached by Rev. J. B. Brown, rector of St. James Episcopal church, Ocala, who took for his text Twelfth Chapter, First Verse, of the Epistle to the Hebrews.

The sermon was very befitting for the occasion, forcible and interesting as well as instructive, impressing upon minds of the hearers the imperative necessity of the noble virtues of good citizenship and a greater usefulness in life. Also, in the afternoon he preached in the Mt. Carmel Baptist church, and at 8 p. m. in the Mt. Pleasant M. E. church, to large and appreciative congregations.

Monday, May 27th, at 8 p. m., Johnson's hall was filled to its utmost capacity with an audience to enjoy the closing exercises of the school, which were interesting and entertaining from start to finish.

The commencement exercises of the finishing year were well rendered, and in fact, all the pupils reflected much credit upon the school, their teachers and themselves.

The principal speakers were Rev. S. A. Huger, Prof. T. E. Dubose and Rev. J. B. Brown.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody, Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Those North Carolina office holders who the Democrats charged with too great partisan activity are to be warned by the Civil Service Commission to keep strictly out of politics. As postmasters, assistant postmasters, collectors of internal revenue and collectors of customs are not included in the classified service, the warning would seem to be an administration bluff.

The Sun contained in its report of the Legislature a day or two ago the statement that Senate bill No. 437, incorporating the town of Tyler, was introduced by Senator McCreary, but this was an error. The bill in question was introduced by Senator Willis of Levy, and Senator McCreary compelled various amendments of material importance before he would agree not to oppose it.

Work on the Florida East Coast Railway extension is progressing more favorable at the present time than at any time since the work was begun about two years ago. There are over 1,000 men at work on the extension and reports have it that all are satisfied with their work, that they are well paid and so far have been troubled with but few mosquitoes, and but little sickness.

It is a good sign for the awakening of public conscience that the Union Pacific railroad is returning to the Government several million dollars' worth of coal lands that it recently stole in the West. The company is left at larcenies of this sort and did not annex the lands direct but through the medium of the Union Pacific Coal Company, which is a subsidiary company of the railroad. But in the overhauling of the land office and the unearthing of land frauds of various sorts, the company was caught with the goods and has turned them over to the Government without a murmer. Now comes another healthy indication. The Department of Justice announces that it will not take the restitution in exculpation for the deed, but will push the prosecution against the men who tried to steal the land, and desisted only when they were found out. A few more prosecutions of this sort and the big men of the corporations will begin to think that it almost pays to be honest.

TARIFF WAR.

While our standpatter Republican friends are enjoying the usufruct of their alliance with the tariff-protected trusts, the tariff war with other countries is certainly and gradually undermining our foreign commerce. The State Department officials are in a very unsatisfactory condition and nothing can be done to mend them until Congress acts, the officials say, there is good reason for believing that "France has decided steadily to increase the duties up on American imports to such an extent that in many instances they are likely to be prohibitive." As the Republican majority in the House of Representatives is opposed to tariff reform and the Senate has refused to ratify the treaties for reciprocity with other nations, the prospect of the coming Congress any law that will reduce the tariff schedules, however high and unreasonable, is out of the question.

The temporary arrangement with Germany will only exist until the next Congress has had an opportunity to pass on a reciprocity arrangement with that country, or enact a general tariff revision law that will admit imports from Germany on a basis that will satisfy that country and thus permit our exports to enter there at the minimum rates.

If the standpat faction prevails at the next Republican national convention, and that can hardly be doubted as nearly all the leaders are for "letting well enough alone," the present incipient tariff war, will reach an acute stage and the real fight for commercial supremacy will be a very serious question.

To leave the tariff to be settled by "the friends of protection" will mean no settlement at all, but merely a continuation of the Republican policy, heretofore and now prevailing of protecting the trusts and making the balance of us pay the tax that trust high prices entail. The only relief that can come to those who feel that the present high cost of living is beyond their ability to pay or so trenches on their income as to compel the relinquishment of even the most simple and inexpensive pleasures, is through voting for Democratic candidates who favor tariff reform not only because the Democratic platform will declare for tariff reform, but also through the inherited traditions of the Democratic party on the tariff issue from the beginning of the Government.

TRAINING FOR THE NEGRO.

The Washington Herald of recent date contains an enlightening interview with Charles Herron, a manufacturer of Chattanooga, Tenn., and a large employer of negro labor, on the industrial deficiencies of the latter race, and the most feasible remedy.

While conceding that the race, as a whole, is afflicted with a growing percentage of shiftless individuals, Mr. Herron speaks optimistically, as follows:

"The proportion of industrious negroes to the total number is nearly as large as among the white people. What the negro race needs is more discipline and training to do the actual work that is to be done. They should receive manual training in the schools. Many are acquiring property and are an asset in the industrial South, but the younger generation needs training, and should have it, no matter how much it costs."

Mr. Herron's views gather importance from the fact that he has been brought into close contact with the negro laborer and is intimately acquainted with his shortcomings.

What he says with reference to the advisability of manual training is in exact accord with the attitude often reiterated by The Constitution.

Had the well-meaning but misguided philanthropists of the North spent one-tenth of the money they have invested in colleges and universities for the few promising specimens of the "cultured negro," on the manual training of the great mass of the race, the South would not today, perhaps, be facing so serious shortage in labor. The negro himself, moreover, would be vastly the gainer. He would be equipped for the practical occupations for which he is eminently fitted.

The tendency of the "higher education," on the other hand, has been to turn out a few thousand dissatisfied negro teachers and preachers and professional men, for whom there is little room in the South, and to leave neglected the great bulk of the eleven millions of the race upon the welfare of which the present and the future of this strangely isolated people must depend.

It is not yet too late for the would-be friends of the negro to so revise their policies as to do justice to the whole race. Manual training schools will afford immeasurable aid in wiping out the mistakes of the past, and it is to be hoped that our friends to the North will not lose sight of the opportunity.—Atlanta Constitution.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

GAINESVILLE AS VIEWED BY SAMUEL A. SWANN.

"Gainesville is a hustling city," said Mr. Samuel A. Swann, Monday, in discussing his visit there, when he was a delegate to the Episcopal Council.

"There is an air of progress and prosperity there, which I was pleased to note. If you spend a few days in Gainesville you can appreciate the great extent of progress made in this State during the past few years. Like Fernandina the people of Gainesville have an abundant faith in their city and are advancing at a rapid rate.

"Situated in the center of the very best country in this State, that city is moving forward at a rate that is astonishing. Mind you, I am no stranger to Gainesville, neither is Gainesville a stranger of mine. I was there for days at a time years ago, and I have been a regular, if not a frequent visitor to that city during the past many years.

"When I alighted from the Seaboard Air Line train and rode up University street, one of the least attractive streets of the city, with the dust sufficient to blind me, I thought that the boast of Gainesville that she had outgrown the other interior cities was not verified by the fact. But when I was taken for a drive behind a magnificent team and had my attention called to the magnificent homes, the pretty streets and the neat public improvements which have been made there only recently, I could realize the great extent of the advancement of the Central City.

"There is everything to denote progress and prosperity. The residences are magnificent ones, the sidewalks are grand and the stock you see is the best in the State. It was with pleasure that I observed the new Gainesville. It is a great city and is jumping ahead. The delegates to the council were accorded a magnificent time and all of us left with the very best opinion of Gainesville and her people."—Fernandina Record.

There was a record broken in the Postoffice Department last week. The Postmaster-General turned in to the Treasury $22,359,120, the largest amount for one quarter in the history of the office. This was not remarkable for the department is growing all the time and the receipts naturally increase. But the amount exceeded the expenditures by $1,800,815. This is a record sure enough. It indicates a good business administration and a financial index to the prosperity of the country it is decidedly encouraging. Now that the postoffice is making an effort to get on even a better business footing, more carefully weighing the mails and adjusting railway payments to correspond, there seems a prospect of its becoming actually a self-supporting department. This will be cheerful enough news to the general public, but it has a rather ominous ring for the express companies, telegraph and telephone companies and others of the great public utilities now run at immense profit by private corporations and whose constant claim has been in the past that the Government could never do such work as they are doing cheaply and at a profit. Postal service is about the cheapest great service the public enjoys, and no one can say that it is not about the best also. It is nevertheless inferior to the postal services of England, Germany and France, for it permits a lot of rapacious express companies to skim the cream of the service and skin the people of the United States.

Tests with the Government submarine boats that have just been concluded at Newport indicate that this class of vessels have developed to the point where it is no longer a mere forlorn hope, a death-risking desperate contrivance, but a ligitimate arm of the service that will have to be definitely reckoned with in future naval wars and in naval building programs. The two boats that have been tested have not only shown speed on the surface and under it but ability to stay down for 24 hours at a time without inconvenience to their crews. They have shown that the United States is in possession of as effective submarine vessels as any power in the world, and they indicate strongly that the American coast will be a mighty unhealthy region for any hostile fleet to navigate in should there arise the unfortunate contingency of another foreign war.

REMINISCENCES OF FLORIDA AS RELATED BY REV. J. C. LEY

Rev. J. C. Ley, a well-known and popular minister all over Florida, and especially in this section, has written, in a series of "Reminiscences of Florida," an article relative to the early days of this section, which we deem of sufficient interest to publish.

Mr. Ley is one of the oldest preachers in the State, and is a pioneer, having assisted in the organization of the Florida conference. For forty years or more he has served his people faithfully and efficiently, during which time he has become thoroughly posted on matters.

The following is what Mr. Ley has to say. The article appeared in The Times-Union of last Sunday:

A brilliant author has discoursed that "What men call a rose, would smell as sweet if called by any other name." This may be true of the rose, but is not true of everything. What is now called Orange county, was upon the first maps called Mosquito county. Perhaps during the war, as the soldiers had to camp where there was plenty of water they thought the latter name appropriate. Indeed, I was not disposed to question the name upon my visit, nor did the public seem inclined to flock thither in great numbers, as is evidenced by the fact that at a general election, as late as 1844, there were only seven votes polled. But on further acquaintance I have decided that as a whole these pests (mosquitoes) are not more numerous there than in other counties in the State. Nevertheless the citizens wanted the name changed and the Legislature granted their request and thus we have an orange for a mosquito. Since that time the population has increased perhaps more rapidly than in any other county in the State. The planting of orange trees, raising oranges and selling groves has been the chief industry.

The church has made fine progress also in this county. In 1860 while serving the district and holding a quarterly meeting at Melonville a young man approached me after meeting and asked, "Can't you send us a parson next year?" On making inquiries he told me that it was about twenty miles from there were some twenty families in the settlement. "Have you never had preaching there?" He answered: "Well, I have heard that a parson came down there once, but he never came back; I expect that they didn't take care of him for you know it is the nature on um to go where they take good care uv um." At that time we had one young man just out of school as a missionary in that county, now we have six pastoral charges, while all the branches of the church are well represented. In '85 I served the Apopka city circuit. At that time there was very large immigration to the county, at Eustis a considerable town was built in one year, the settlers living in tents till they could build houses. From there to Apopka the traveler was never for any considerable length of time out of sight of a house. In that winter we had snow in Apopka.

We turn now to Alachua. This was one of the old counties, and I was told originally extended from the Georgia line to Tampa bay. But on my first acquaintance, there was Columbia, Alachua, Marion, Benton and Hillsboro. Of these I think Columbia was the most populous and Alachua the most productive. Newnansville was the county seat. J. W. Pearson, George L. Brown and one or two others were merchants. S. Fagan ran a wheelwright and blacksmith shop. There was a boarding house, I think kept by Mrs. Stanley. A school, a church, two lawyers and two doctors with five or six families made up the population. It was quite a town for the interior of East Florida in those days. The soil was fine. Indeed, Alachua and Marion were considered the best farming counties east of the Suwannee.

Around Newnansville M. Dell, J. W. Stanley, S. Pyles and others were considered large planters. Micanopy was a small town, noted for its health, the beauty of its surrounding lakes, rich hammocks and the conservative character of its people. Here in the twenties the Rev. J. L. Jerry formed and organized a church which exists today and here, the name of Micanopy, the Indian chief for whom the town was named, and who perished at the hands of Osceola because he would not violate his pledge of peace to the whites, and the name of his daughter who drowned herself for love and gave her name to the beautiful lake Tuscawilla, is still cherished. Wacahoota (cow house) was a small village; here the writer preached in 1845 and became acquainted with Col. J. F. McDonnell and others. The war was considered closed and Mr. M—, Mrs. Crum and her granddaughter, little Mary Harm, were riding in a carriage with Mrs. Harm who was on horseback. On entering a hammock a volley of five rifles were discharged at the carriage. Mr. M— sprang from the drivers' seat and was soon out of sight. The Indians rushed to the carriage, cut the throat of Mrs. Crum. The child rushed passing among them and reached her mother, exclaiming, "Oh Ma, they have killed Grandma." Mrs. Harm reached down, caught the child and lifting her on the horse galloped away. The Indians' guns were empty and they did not follow. Mr. M— reached a place of safety, and it was found that one ball had entered his chest, passed through his lungs and lodged in his body. He, however, recovered and lived to be an old man, a successful planter, having filled satisfactorily different public trusts; he peacefully passed away honored by all. His death was supposed to be hastened by the effects of that ball, the last shot of the seven years' Indian war.

POOR BABY'S FACE ITCHED TERRIBLY

Face and Neck Covered with Inflamed Skin — Suffered Terribly — Mother Took Her to Doctors and Colleges to No Avail — Lost Faith in Medicines — Friend Suggested Cuticura Remedies and

CHILD IS NOW THE PICTURE OF HEALTH

"My baby's face and neck were covered with itching skin similar to eczema, and she suffered terribly for over a year. I took her to a number of doctors, and also to different colleges to no avail. Then Cuticura Remedies were recommended to me by Miss G—, who was telling me how they helped her. I did not use it at first, as I had tried so many other remedies without any favorable results. At last I tried Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, and to my surprise noticed an improvement. After using three boxes of the Cuticura Ointment, together with the Soap and Pills, I am pleased to say she is altogether a different child and the picture of health, and now I have a firm belief in Cuticura Remedies and would not be without them in the house. I will gladly let you publish this testimonial as I would like others to have the same benefit that we did, and you may be sure I will recommend them strongly to everybody I know and to those I don't know, too. TWENTY GREEKS ARRIVED SUNDAY

They Came from South to Accept Employment on Sewer Work.

TO TAKE PLACE OF STRIKERS

They are an Able-Bodied Set, and Went Cheerfully and Industriously to Work—Large Force Now Employed—Work Progressing Nicely.

Notwithstanding the fact that a strike among the Greek laborers engaged on the sewer work a week ago, the majority of whom have left the city, another consignment arrived Sunday, and Monday morning took the places of their striking brethren.

There were about twenty in the Sunday party, which with the dozen or more Greeks who refused to go out on account of being satisfied, makes a force of about thirty-five Greeks now employed.

Contractor Beeman stated that those Greeks who did strike for higher wages, or at least the majority of them, were of an inferior class, physically, and he did not shed any tears when they quit, nor did he beg them to remain. Those Greeks now at work are able-bodied men, capable of earning a decent day's salary, which they are receiving.

Work is progressing nicely on the sewer work now. There is plenty of labor and plenty of material, with the result that everything is running smoothly. Work, under the favorable conditions which now exist, will be finished about July 1.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1; and J. W. McCollum gives his personal guarantee with each package that money will be refunded unless the treatment does all that is claimed for it.

MEMORIAL SERMON BY DR. CRAIGHILL

He Delivered a Most Touching Memorial to Grand Army.

A LARGE CROWD PRESENT

Lew Wallace Post, Members of U. C. V., U. D. C., P. O. S. of A. and Gainesville Guards, Listen to Elegant Discourse at Holy Trinity Church.

Notwithstanding the fact that the baccalaureate sermon of the University of Florida was delivered at the Tabernacle Sunday morning, attracting a large and representative audience, the elegant new Holy Trinity church was also well filled, the occasion being the memorial sermon, delivered by Rev. Francis H. Craighill, the rector, before Lew Wallace Post, Grand Army of the Republic, under the auspices of which post the service was held.

Through invitation of the G. A. R. the meeting was attended by members of Stonewall Camp, United Confederate Veterans, both chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Patriotic Order Sons of America, and the Gainesville Guards, under command of Captain J. W. Blanding, the Guards acting as a guard of honor.

The members of the Grand Army post and P. O. S. of A. formed at the corner of West Liberty and Garden streets, where they were joined by the Guards, about forty strong. From this point the procession marched to the church, where seats had been reserved for them, the members of other organizations being in waiting at the church.

Dr. Craighill's Sermon.

Dr. Craighill took for his theme, "Whosoever Shall Seek to Save His Life Shall Lose It; and Whosoever Loses His Life Shall Preserve It."

In his address, which was one full of inspiring eloquence, the speaker commented upon things appropriate at this time. He commended highly these societies which had been organized to perpetuate these deeds of heroism and bravery, and to reverence the memory of those who were gone. He related touchingly and with favor to the diminishing feeling of dislike which existed for some time after the close of the great struggle between the North and the South, which has been more especially noticeable since the Spanish-American war, when the Northern boy and the Southern shoulder his musket and march side by side to preserve the dignity of the Union—the again united country, which no bond can sever.

During his discourse Dr. Craighill took occasion to pay reverence to the living as well as to the dead, his tribute to the old soldier being particuhary impressive.

The music at this service was especially fine, including a solo by Mr. Cadwallader of the Episcopal choir.

In all, the service was one of the most interesting and most touching ever seen in Gainesville, and those who attended were deeply impressed.

J. Mason Tison, formerly of this city but now engaged in business in Ocala, has recently acquired a fine trotting horse, "Football," which is said to be as fine as any horseflesh in Florida.

Mr. Tison, who was in Gainesville a couple of days ago, states that the horse has a record of 2:06 in harness, and that he will put the animal on the track for a purse of $400 next Saturday. The event will transpire on the Ocala track, and is creating a great deal of interest between the sportsmen throughout that section of the State.

Kelley, is a student of the Gainesville Senior High School, and at the commencement exercises of this school last week, delivered an oration on Edison and his wonderful achievements. Hon. Robert F. Rogers of Marion county, one of the wheel horses of Florida democracy, and who is being very favorably mentioned for Governor of Florida, is in the city mingling with his friends, a guest of Hon. Frank Clark.

Senator Rogers is one of the best stump speakers in the State, and if he should yield to the importunities of his friends, he would create enthusiasm among thousands all over the State. He was formerly president of the Farmers' Alliance, but remained true to the Democratic party, and is a tower of strength among the people.

The writer is not able to state whether Senator Rogers will enter the lists or not, but does not hesitate to say that if he does in the parlance of the day "there'll be something doing."

Several friends called upon Senator Rogers at the Clark home Wednesday evening.
